Kerr's Condition.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Kerr is better and has gone into the country.

Blaine Worse.

Blaine is worse and confined to his bed. Surgeon General Barnes thoroughly examined his case this evening and finds him suffering from extreme nervous exhaustion and from severe malarial poisoning. These features of his case are complicated somewhat with threatened organic troubles and Barnes prescribes absolute rest for several weeks as an indispensable condition of averting very serious consequences and that the rest be taken in some invigorating air on sea shore and mountains. Doctors Pope and Verdi who were in attendance upon Blaine during his original attack, have been urging upon him the same course prescribed by the surgeon general.

Silver Coin Issue.

The House committee on banking and currency to-day took action on the Senate amendments to the House joint resolution providing for the issue of silver coin by the Treasury in exchange for ten millions of legal tender notes. The committee agree to the Senate amendment striking out the word 'now' from the clause where it restricted the issue of coin to such as is now in the Treasury, but they voted to recommend non concurrence in the Senate amendment providing that the trade dollar shall no longer be a legal tender.

Interest on the 3 65 Bonds Guaranteed.

The House of Representatives to-day guaranteed the payment of interest on the 3 65 District of Columbia bonds.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

The Fueros Bill Passed by the Cortes.

MADRID, June 22.—The government's bill modifying the fueros has passed the Senate.

Lord Derby Sustained.

LONDON, June 22.—The Telegraph supports Lord Derby's position on the extradition question. The article concludes as follows: "It is better there be no treaty at all than that England should yield to any power her immortal right to know upon what ground, and for what offense the meanest refugee is surrendered. That is the principle which dominates in British matters, and Lord Derby has the whole nation behind him in the policy he has followed throughout the present complications."

British House of Commons.

LONDON, June 22.—In the House of Commons this evening Thos. Rowley Hill, liberal member gave notice he would ask Disraeli on Tuesday whether negotiations were progressing with the United States for amending the extradition treaty between that country and Great Britain and whether Parliament would be afforded an opportunity during the present session to discuss the principle for the amending treaty to cover.

Edward Jennings liberal asked Burke, under foreign secretary, whether the Government of the United States had taken the necessary steps to complete the organization of a fishery commission under the treaty of Washington.

Burke in reply said negotiations had been progressing some time and he had hoped the organization of the commission would be shortly completed by the appointment of three American commissioners. He could not enter into details regarding the settlement of the questions between Canada and the United States.

The Publication of Important Letters Expected.

PARIS, June 22.—It is expected that MacMahon will in a few days cause to be published in the official journal, letters addressed by him to Dufaure president of the council and minister of justice and Gen. DeCissey minister of war requesting them to order no further prosecutions against the Communists except in various vicious cases.

The manager of Le Bien Public has been sentenced to three months' imprisonment for insulting the Catholic religion.

Spanish Constitution Adopted.

MADRID, June 22.—The Senate to-day finally adopted the constitution by a vote of 127 to 11.

Hostilities Imminent Between Servia and Turkey.

LONDON, June 22.—Latest news from Belgrade again causes fears that hostilities will break out between Servia and Turkey.

LONDON, June 22.—A Vienna correspondent telegraphs that it is openly asserted in Belgrade that five thousand Servians will soon arrive there from Hungary and the enrollment of volunteers for the insurgent ranks is proceeding vigorously in South Hungary. The commandant of that district has been summoned to Vienna to consult with the government on the best measures to check these proceedings. Several agitators have already been arrested. The Servians are equipping battalions of artillery.

NEW ROAD FROM COLUMBIA CITY TO NEHALEM VALLEY.

COLUMBIA CITY, June 22, 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

On the 15th of this month, by previous appointment, myself, associated with four other persons—Messrs Cirley, Brock, Brown and Miller—started to cut and blaze a trail from this place to Nehalem valley. We succeeded in cutting a trail to the waters of the Claskanine a distance of eight miles and then returned for more help and will resume the work in a few days and complete the trail to the valley. The country over which we passed is perfectly splendid for a road almost a water level after passing over the Columbia river hill, and we saw some fine bottom lands on the Claskanine. Mr Brock says it is equal to the Nehalem valley lands though not so much grass or open lands, and some parties here think of locating claims there. We have received some letters from parties wishing to locate in the valley and asking some questions as regards the country and how to get there. Briefly I will say the country over which I passed along the big bend for a distance of fourteen miles unoccupied is splendid for settlement, especially for stock raising, vegetables, fruit, etc. The best way to get there at present is by the way of Forest Grove at least those with stock and teams, though we will soon have a way direct from here which will shorten the trip one half at least. More anon.

[illegible] CAILLS.

TRUE CHRISTIANITY.—A lovely story of city neighborliness touched me the other day and so I tell it to you. A young lady carried some gift to a small hospital nearly opposite her own house. She was pitiful and sympathetic and soon found that two of the invalid women took great comfort in looking into the lighted sitting room of her own home and seeing all the pleasant family life there; and they were sorry when the shades shut out the sight. After that all winter long the shades were left up until the hospital patients were in bed and they grew very fond of that family group whom they knew in no other way, but who were so willing to do their part towards setting the solitary in families.

At a meeting of the delegates from the various subordinate granges of Marion county held at Gervais, June 17th, Bros. J. J. Davidson, P. P. Castleman and G. W. Hunt were elected delegates to the State Grange to be held at Albany on the fourth Monday of next September.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The bill to authorize the retirement of Col Wm H Emory with the rank of brigadier general passed.

The consideration of unfinished business being the naval appropriation bill was then commenced. Sargent in charge of the bill stated the amount of the estimates for the navy submitted for the next fiscal year was $20,186,000. The amount appropriated for the present fiscal year was $17,011,[illegible]. The bill now before the Senate as reported by the committee on appropriations this proposed to appropriate $16,111,[illegible] being an increase on the House bill of $[illegible] and a decrease as compared with the appropriation bill of the present year of $[illegible]. In nearly every item the bill as it came before the Senate there was reduction and the committee in a majority of cases assented to the reduction made by the House of Representatives, but in some cases they found it necessary to increase the amount allowed by the House bill as it came from the House. The committee did not propose to reduce the number of officers of the navy or their pay but it appropriated inadequately for their compensation. For several years past the appropriations for this purpose had been inadequate but the deficiency had been made up from appropriations for the pay of the navy for previous years as the balance for that service did not have to be paid back into the treasury at the end of the fiscal year. The roll of officers and seamen called for the appropriation of $[illegible] and it must be made. The law fixed their compensation and not one dollar less would not pay. The service might be top heavy and no doubt there were too many officers for the men, but whether it was possible or not to reduce the number of officers of the navy was a delicate question. Many of the officers of the navy had rendered valuable service to the country and it might be the part of patriotism to allow large retired and active lists to the navy.

He then referred to the increase in appropriations for the bureau of construction and repairs and said: If we would have a navy at all it must be kept in repair. After some further debate, the several amendments proposed by the committee on appropriations were agreed to. The amendments were debated pro and con by several Senators. At length the amendment was reached to increase the appropriation for the bureau of yards and docks from $440,000 to $760,000, and it was rejected—Yeas 2[illegible], nays 22,—Ingalls, Edmunds, Hamilton and Morrill, of Vermont voting with the Democrats in the negative.

Sargent moved to reconsider the vote by which the other appropriations in the bill had been increased and said if he could not get his Republican friends to stand by the bill he would accept the bill as it came from the House of Representatives.

Edmunds thought in disposing of any appropriations, it was better to take the lowest. It seems impossible when Congress should assemble in December next and it should be found that the amount is not enough for the service a deficiency bill could be passed. He did not think the Senator from California should rebuke his political friends for suggesting the decrease. He was disposed to stand by the committee in all appropriations to carry existing laws into effect and Morrill of Vermont, said he had great confidence in the Senator from California but he thought the appropriations for some of the bureaus and navy yards could be reduced and after discussion Sargent withdrew his motion to reconsider. The appropriation for the bureau for construction and repairs was increased from $[illegible]500,000 to $2,[illegible]0,000.

Edmunds submitted the following as a substitute for the clause in the House bill: No increase of force of any navy yard shall be made at any time within sixty days before any election to take place for President or member of Congress except when the secretary of the navy shall certify that the needs of the public service makes such increase necessary at that time. This was agreed to.

The appropriation for the bureau of steam engineering was raised from $[illegible]8,000 to one million. The bill was then reported to the Senate and passed; adjourned.

House.

House met at 11 A M and immediately went into committee of the whole on the sundry civil appropriation bill, the question being on the amendment to have the public printing done under contract by the lowest bidder which, after discussion was agreed to. The point having been reached in the bill directing the Secretary of the Treasury to reserve of the revenues for the District of Columbia a sum sufficient to meet the interest of the 3 65 bonds accruing within the next fiscal year and apply the same to that purpose, Randall moved to add a provision that in case there should not be a sufficient amount of revenue belonging to the district at such time as the interest may be due, the secretary of the Treasury shall advance the amount necessary and shall reimburse it to the treasury out of the district revenues.

After debate the amendment was adopted.

At this point the House voted to cut off debate by 121 against 75—a strict party vote.

Chandler moved to strike out whatever related to the enforcement act, rejected.

The question of the enforcement act came up again on motion of Chandler to strike out the item of $25,000 for the detection and prosecution of crimes against the United States. The amendment was adopted. Soon after the House took a recess till 8 o'clock.

The Senate amendments to the Indian appropriation bill were non concurred in and a committee of conference ordered. Randall, Sparks and Hurlburt were appointed.

The House then resumed the consideration of sundry civil bills.

A great number of amendments were proposed and rejected on the subject of town post offices and public buildings. At last Piper moved to increase the item for appraisers at San Francisco from $50,000 to $100,000. He characterized the course of the committee on appropriations as miserable economy deserving the denunciation of decent men (laughter and encouragement on the Democratic side). No reply was made to Piper's speech but the adage as to the impossibility of making a silk purse out of a sow's ear was quoted by Randall in a low tone but it reached the ear of Piper who bustled over and demanded what Randall meant. No response was made to Piper, and pending the vote on Piper's amendment the committee rose having just disposed of half the bill and the House at 11 adjourned.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

An evening paper will be started in Victoria next month.

The Colonist says Dr W W Walkem editor of the Standard, has resigned.

Shipping at Victoria at the present time is unusually lively. In Royal Roads six large vessels are riding at anchor.

Mr W A Robertson and party returned from Cowichan, having successfully cut a trail through from that settlement to the Koksilah anthracite coal district.

Nautical passengers by the City of Panama on her last trip to Victoria attribute the long passage to a young prairie growing on her bottom, where grass a yard long is flourishing.

The very high stage of water in Fraser has greatly interfered with the salmon fisheries which are now almost at a standstill. The take of fish always decreases as the water rises.

Capt. Nagle harbormaster of Esquimalt and Victoria reports to the Dominion government that the fees received in his department amounted to $[illegible] in 187[illegible]. As port warden his fees were $[illegible].

A gentleman named F W Elsby reports that the canneries of the Northwestern Commercial Company are being pushed to completion at Woodcock's landing on the Skeena river. He also reports the gold prospect to be very poor this season upon that river.

Two Indians arrived at Victoria from the West Coast and reported to the superintendent of police that the American River [illegible] Wren, and three Indians previously reported in the Colonist as having been drowned were really murdered by Hesquiot Indians. They say the three Indians were shot and the white man shot and gashed across the bowels.

The high water is doing its work on the Lower Fraser river. At Langley and Sumas almost everything about the landings is under water and canoes and boats are used where in ordinary times the ground is dry land. The greater portion of Sumas prairie is under water, and it is feared that agricultural interests will be greatly injured. The bridges are all gone and the wagon road built by the late government has become a morass.

The Nanaimo Free Press says: The grand Indian potlatch is over and the grand sachems with their wives and pappooses have returned to their hunting (fishing) grounds. Dick gave away 1,000 blankets valued at $[illegible] and is now [illegible] but [illegible] he expects to receive $[illegible] for [illegible] within two years. This is on a par with the charge of the Six Hundred. [illegible] were made to order by Mr Wilson, [illegible] but they were not called for.

The new Baptist church on White river was dedicated last Sunday. Rev P H Harper preached on Saturday evening. On Sabbath morning the house was filled to overflowing. Revs J A Wirth, R Weston, P H Harper and E S Greer conducting the services. At 11 A M, Rev J A Wirth preached the dedication sermon and Elder Greene made a financial appeal resulting in a collection of $175 in cash and pledges.

Samuel Benn has discovered coal on the banks of the Wiskah river, within half a mile of the point where it empties into the Chehalis river, near the eastern end of Gray's Harbor. The quality appears to be superior and the quantity is reported to be unlimited. Any ordinary vessel can float to the mines at high tide.

Some trouble, says the Seattle Tribune of the 17th, occurred in Stott's variety house yesterday and last night, resulting in the marriage of one of the girls and the accidental shooting of her sister the wife of the proprietor. After the marriage, during some stormy proceedings, a pistol which Mrs Stott was flourishing a little wildly, suddenly went off and the bullet was lodged in the thigh of one of her legs.

The Seattle Intelligencer of June 17th says: "A young man named Martin had been paying his attentions to a daughter of Mr. Bedell, for some time past, against Bedell's wishes. On Thursday evening, Martin succeeded in inducing the young lady to accompany him to Seattle for the purpose of getting married. Her father, on Friday morning, came to town and employed W. H. White to prevent, if possible, the marriage. Finally, under the advice of Mr White the parties all returned to Mr. Bedell's home for the purpose of celebrating the marriage of Martin with the daughter, a license having been procured and a justice of the peace engaged to perform the ceremony. After returning to Bedell's residence an altercation occurred between him and his intended son in law, when the former discharged a shotgun at the latter, some of the shot taking effect in Martin's arm. In the excitement of the occasion, Mrs Bedell fainted and ruptured a blood vessel. Drs. Sparling and Bigley were called, and found that Mrs Bedell was beyond human aid. A complaint for an assault with intent to kill has been sworn out by Martin against Mr Bedell who has not yet been arrested on account of the dying condition of his wife. We have since learned that Mrs. Bedell is dead."

Speaking of the late revelations of official corruption in the United States, the London Times of March 28th has the following: "We make these comparisons in no spirit of Pharisaism. Although the public servants of this country are now free even from the suspicion of being corrupt, they were not always so and we are all still but too well acquainted with the art of electoral bribery. In England there was a time when official parliamentary corruption had reached a strange height of shamelessness. The purchase so late as last century of votes in the House of Commons, the open sale of parliamentary seats and the traffic in public offices make up one of the most discreditable chapters in our history. We refer to it in order to remind America of the means by which the public service of this country has been made the purest in the world. The fight was so long and hard that it often seemed hopeless but thorough investigations and strict punishment to the offenders at last brought our affairs into tangible shape and left us with men of pure morals and honesty of purpose to legislate for us. Let our American neighbors promptly punish those who take any part in public plundering, and thus remove the disgrace brought on them by the heads of their government."

Tilden Opposed to the Chinese.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—A dispatch received from Senator Roach, dated at Albany, New York, yesterday, states that he had interviewed Gov. Tilden and impressed him favorably with his views on the Chinese question. The Governor is a strong opponent of Chinese immigration. Roach also interviewed Manton Marble and the editor of the Albany Argus. The Senator has drafted a strong anti Chinese plank for the St Louis convention which will obtain the support of these gentlemen.

Absconded.

Nathan D. Parker, recently employed as clerk by A. E. Magill agent for the Phœnix and Home insurance companies, has absconded, taking with him about $14,000 of his employers money, besides beating a large number of people about town out of greater or less amounts.

More Resignations—The San Francisco Whisky Ring Jubilant.

Private dispatches received in this city last evening state that, in consequence of the resignation of Bristow, Assistant Secretaries of the Treasury Conant and Barnham have both resigned, or will do so, and that Commissioner of Internal Revenue Pratt will take the same course. This is in contradiction of the press dispatches published this morning. A good deal of talking has been done by government officials, and the general belief is that the departure of Special Treasury Agent Mills, of the custom house department, will be followed by that of others who have been working up whisky matters in case Pratt carries out his intention to resign. The citizens here known to be connected with whisky rings are loud in their expressions of satisfaction at the turn things have taken, and those who were interested in defrauding the customs. The department is jubilant over the departure of Special Agent Mills, who has made himself obnoxious to that class of people by the disposition he has shown in ferreting out smugglers and their tricks. It is considered that his recall comes just in time to avoid any unpleasant consequences that might arise from too close an investigation of the alleged infraction of immigration regulations in the landing of Chinese women from Pacific Mail steamers, disguised in male apparel, and the illegal landing of dutiable goods without the formality of entry. In this connection a private letter from a gentleman in the customs department in New York has been received here, stating that Bristow had only begun to show up the corruption prevailing in that branch of the Treasury Department, and that if permitted to continue his work, facts would come to light showing a degree of corruption that would astonish the country. "Grinning, pending the arrival of further advices from Washington, agents and officials here are in a state of general uncertainty as to what will be the next move. Bristow's friends here, who believe themselves somewhat familiar with the state of affairs in Washington, are not disposed to blame him for resigning, considering that it was practically forced upon him.

O'Leary Throws Up the Sponge.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—At 3:25 this morning O'Leary threw up the sponge for the time being, his physician forbidding him to walk longer. He had been bleeding at the nose almost constantly. At the time of leaving off he had made 217 miles and will reappear to-morrow evening if able. The amateurs continue their tramp, and at noon had covered 318 miles. To keep up the interest during O'Leary's absence two amateurs of the Olympic Club at noon started on a race of 150 miles for $100 and a gold medal.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The walking match came to an inglorious end this evening. As before reported, O'Leary left the track this morning by the advice of his physician. That caused the interest to flag, although the amateurs kept up the tramp during the day, but this evening the gentleman who came on at 8 o'clock found an array of empty benches to welcome his entrance, and after walking two miles retired in disgust. The amateurs did their best, and in 6 hours rolled up a score of 351 miles, nearly each one of which was represented by a blister. The expenses of the entertainment have probably far exceeded the gate money, and the pedestrians have their labor for their pains.

Pacific Mail S. S. Company's Coal Attached.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—A large quantity of coal on the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's dock was attached yesterday at the instance of H. B. Berryman, on a claim against the company for $100,000, alleged to be due him on a breach of coal contract running over a term of five years.

This morning the body of an unknown man was found floating in the bay at Vallejo street wharf, and was taken to the morgue.

Leroy vs. Spring Valley Water Company.

This being the day set for taking the deposition of R. M. Brereton in the case of Leroy vs. the Spring Valley Water Company, all parties were present. Mr Phelan for plaintiff, stated that he had concluded to dismiss the proceedings in regard to the taking of the deposition.

Lost at Sea.

SAN DIEGO, June 22.—The barkentine Tremont, 20 days from Tacoma, arrived night before last. On her trip down her first mate, Mr Butler, fell overboard and was lost.

Fruit Crop.

The fruit crop in this vicinity was never so promising. The trees are heavily loaded. Harvesting is progressing favorably. The yield is much better than was anticipated. The weather has been cloudy and foggy with south wind for the past three weeks.

Hackett Catches One of the Robbers.

MARYSVILLE, June 22.—Detective Hume and Hackett, W F & Co's messenger, arrived here at 2 o'clock this morning having in charge a man known as Liverpool, one of the party that attempted to rob the Downieville stage yesterday at Stanfield hill. Hackett, in company with one man returned to the place where he found the highwaymen's clothing, and laid in wait. Liverpool came in sight shortly after, and was instantly covered by the guns of the waiting party and commanded to surrender, which he did, having no alternative but to do so or die. Liverpool is an old rounder. He was taken to San Francisco to-day. W F & Co's box which they were after yesterday, contained $17,000.

Drowned.

PETALUMA, June 22.—A son of Thos Roach, a merchant of this place, was drowned in Petaluma creek. The body was recovered but all efforts to restore life proved unsuccessful.

Fatal Accident.

PETROLOPOLIS, June 22.—An accident occurred in the San Fernando tunnel this afternoon. The foreman, named Conroy, was instantly killed. Two other white men were badly hurt and supposed to be blinded and a number of Chinamen badly and several fatally injured. It was caused by the bursting of a blast through from one division of the tunnel to another. The two divisions of working men had, it would seem, approached each other nearer than they had supposed with the above results.

A New Paper in the Interest of Hayes and Wheeler.

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—There is strong talk among leading Republicans of starting a daily paper in the interest of that party. It will probably be a morning paper and be recognized as the organ of the friends of Hayes and Wheeler.

Mother against Son.

A very extraordinary case has been commenced in Justice Gray's court by a mother who asks for the arrest and conviction of her son a hopeful youth of 18, who it seems according to the complaint is in the habit of beating his mother. She has stood hard treatment from her boy until she is forced to ask the assistance of the law to protect her.

Safe Robber Arrested.

SHASTA, June 22.—James Demorest, one of the Trinity Centre safe robbers was arrested at Anderson, yesterday, by Constable Thos. Bell, and brought to this place by Under Sheriff Kennedy, and was taken to Weaverville to-day by J W Philbrook, sheriff of Trinity county. He acknowledges the crime, but throws all the blame of shooting at the sheriffs, on Trinity mountain, last Tuesday night, on his partner, Chas. Burch, who was killed in the encounter.

UTAH.

Broke Jail.

SALT LAKE, June 22.—Seven prisoners broke out of the penitentiary this afternoon after capturing the guard and securing all their guns, pistols and ammunition, along with three horses and escaped. Harrison Carter, acting as cook in the penitentiary, was shot and will probably die. It is rumored that the warden was killed, but this lacks confirmation. Among the prisoners are several who were instrumental in the killing of Capt. Berger, a former warden.

NEVADA.

Fire.

CARSON, June 22.—For the first time in several months, the people were aroused by a fire alarm this afternoon, caused by the burning of a large vat of tar which was being boiled in the yard of the gas works. The works and several adjacent buildings narrowly escaped destruction. A man named Frank Craven was run over by a fire engine going to the fire and received injuries which will probably prove fatal.

Suicide.

VIRGINIA, June 22.—S. F. Hill, Western Union Telegraph operator at Silver City, Nevada, committed suicide this morning by poison. He leaves a wife and child.

THE BAPTIST CENTENNIAL SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Second Day—Afternoon Session.

At 4 P. M., a specimen teachers' meeting, led by the conductor, brought out the following plan: 1. It should be regarded as a [illegible] for prayer. 2. Subjects for prayer [illegible]. 3. Consultations. 4. Difficulties [illegible]. 5. Plan for Sunday school work. 6. The lesson.

An invitation was given the convention to visit the State Penitentiary.

Song, "What hast thou done for me."

Benediction by the conductor.

Evening Session.

At 7:30 P. M. a devotional meeting was held led by Rev. Sterling Hill. Rev. C. W. Pitts presented a historical sketch entitled, "The Baptist and the Centennial." After this address the song entitled, "Hold the Fort," was sung with remarkable enthusiasm, after which Rev R. C. Hill delivered an impromptu address on "Early Reminiscences of Baptists in Oregon," which was received with applause.

Song, "We shall Meet by and by."

Benediction by Rev. A. J. Hunsaker of Albany. Adjournment.

Third Day.

Devotional exercises, led by Bro. A. C. Moody, followed by a Bible reading led by the conductor.

The following question was then discussed, opened by Rev. R. C. Hill, viz.: "Bible schools as an evangelizing agency, and what we may hope from them in the next one hundred years." Prof. M. Bailey, Rev. Addison Jones and Rev. J. C. Baker took part in this discussion.

The report of the committee on future plan of work of the convention, was received and adopted.

The committee reported as follows:

1. Appoint a commission of three to nominate a Sunday school commission consisting of three persons.
2. This commission to have the supervision of the Sunday school work in the State for the year, reporting to the convention at the next annual session.
3. This commission to arrange for four sectional meetings during the year—the last to be a State mass convention; also to arrange programme for such convention.
4. This commission to appoint in each association an associational corresponding secretary, who shall aid in working up the Sunday school interest in his association, in organizing new schools and in giving the commission such information, as they need to prosecute the work.
5. That an effort shall be made, and every legitimate means used, to secure the organization of a Sunday school in each of our churches and mission schools wherever this can be done.
6. The commission to gather and present to the next annual meeting, as nearly as possible, the statistics of our schools in the State and Washington Territory.

For this work and to aid this commission, when so appointed, we as delegates and members of this convention pledge our hearty prayerful support.

Rev D. J. Pierce, of Portland, Rev. A. J. Hunsaker, of Albany, and Rev C. W. Rees, of Eugene City were appointed as commissioners to carry on the work of the convention in accordance with the above report.

Afternoon Session.

Rev T. J. Huff of Oregon City, addressed the convention on "How to lead little children to Christ," and was listened to with earnest attention by the children present.

This was followed by a song by the choir, led by Bro. Yeaton of the Salem Baptist Sunday school.

The remainder of the evening was then given up to the Salem Baptist Sunday school, which was not only an interesting feature of the convention work but was also instructive and profitable throughout. About fifteen little girls and boys repeated alternately as many lessons of the International series. At the commencement of this exercise, a little boy, only five or six years of age, knelt down and repeated the Lord's prayer with remarkable distinctness and child like simplicity. A class of little girls under the charge of Mrs Al Kinney repeated the ten commandments alternately, and was followed by a solo by Miss Leona Willis, only seven years of age, who did very well indeed for one of such tender years.

Essays were read by Dr Jessup and Bro. J. E. Strong of the Salem school, followed by a solo by Mrs Boynton of Salem.

The conductor was called upon who gave the school a complimentary address of five minutes after which the convention adjourned until 7:30 P. M., with a song from the school and benediction by Rev C. W. Rees.

After the adjournment of the Convention a number of the members remained, in response to an invitation given by Rev A. J. Hunsaker corresponding secretary of the Baptist Sunday School Convention of Oregon, to take into consideration the question of calling a meeting of said convention. Prayer by Dr Hill. After considerable discussion upon the question the following resolution was offered and adopted:

Resolved, That we ask the officers or executive committee of the Baptist State Convention of Oregon, to call the convention together at Portland during the meeting of the Willamette Association this year.

NOTES FROM SALEM.

Under date of June 22d, our regular correspondent sends the following:

Hong E. Akin, short-stop of the College Club, is confined to his room by illness.

The OREGONIAN failed to reach your mail subscribers this morning, to their great disappointment.

Arthur Bell, an old resident of Oregon City, died here on Tuesday last, and was taken to his home for burial.

The Dallas camp meeting will hold over another Sabbath. Up to the present time about one dozen have been immersed.

The ladies of the Episcopal church will give a strawberry and ice cream festival at the Legislative Hall on Tuesday evening next.

There is a prospect for a friendly game of base ball between the Nippers, of Gervais, and our College clubs, in this city, Saturday next.

Intelligence from Portland regarding the high water is anxiously looked for, and a general desire is manifest to visit the city and see the sights.

The College Club feel justly indignant at the slur thrown out by the Journal of Wednesday evening. They intend playing and will probably beat the Portland base ball clubs on their own grounds.

That was a severe joke on Salem when a few days ago the OREGONIAN announced the river as risen two feet at this place. It is at a dead stand still and has not varied as [illegible] inches for some time past.

Tiger Engine Co. No. 2, of the Salem Fire Department, have [illegible] the [illegible], and will attend your Centennial in a body. The Capitals will remain at home to guard the property of our city.

Frank M. Bewley, Esq., who has been chosen to read the Declaration of Independence in your city, is practicing daily while standing waist deep in the Willamette, to become accustomed to it before appearing in Portland.

The College Base Ball Club forward to-day their entrance fee and formally entered the contest for the Centennial prize [illegible] in your city. They are expedient players, and will do their level best to walk away with the honors.

A special train will be run from Albany to Gervais on Sunday next to accommodate all who may desire to attend the Spiritual Camp Meeting to commence at Gervais and be held over until the 29th inclusive. Half fare rates will be granted.

The commencement exercises at the Academy of the Sacred Heart, will take place on Wednesday next. They promise to be of an exceedingly interesting character. Your correspondent will [illegible] to be [illegible] and report proceedings.

WASHINGTON, June [illegible]—Kerr is better and [illegible] going into the country

Blaine Worse.

Blaine is worse and confined to his bed. Surgeon General Barnes thoroughly examined his case this evening and finds him suffering from extreme nervous exhaustion and from severe malarial poisoning. These features of his case are complicated somewhat with threatened organic troubles and Barnes prescribes absolute rest for several weeks as an indispensable condition of averting very serious consequences and that the rest be taken in some invigorating air on sea shore and mountains. Doctors Pope and Verdi who were in attendance upon Blaine during his original attack have been urging upon him the same course prescribed by the surgeon general

Lord Derby Sustained.

LONDON, June 22.—The Telegraph supports Lord Derby's position on the extradition question. The article concludes as follows: It is better there be no treaty at all than that England should yield to any power her immortal right to know upon what ground, and for what offense the meanest refugee is surrendered. That is the principle which dominates in British matters and Lord Derby has the whole nation behind him in the policy he has followed throughout the present complications

British House of Commons.

LONDON, June 22.—In the House of Commons this evening Thos. Rowley Hill, liberal member, gave notice he would ask Disraeli on Monday whether negotiations were progressing with the United States for amending the extradition treaty between that country and Great Britain and whether Parliament would be afforded an opportunity during the present session to discuss the principle for the amending treaty to cover.

Edward Jennings, liberal, asked Burke, under foreign secretary, whether the Government of the United States had taken the necessary steps to complete the organization of a fishery commission under the treaty of Washington.

Burke in reply said negotiations had been progressing some time and he had hoped the organization of the commission would be shortly completed by the appointment of three American commissioners. He could not give [illegible] details regarding the settlement of the questions between Canada and the United States.

LONDON, June 22.—Latest news from Belgrade again causes fears that hostilities will break out between Servia and Turkey.

LONDON, June 22.—A Vienna correspondent telegraphs that it is openly asserted in Belgrade that five thousand Servians will soon arrive there from Hungary and the enrollment of volunteers for the insurgent ranks is proceeding vigorously in South Hungary. The commandant of that district has been summoned to Vienna to consult with the government on the best means to check these proceedings. Several agitators have already been arrested. The Servians are equipping battalions of artillery.

NEW ROAD FROM COLUMBIA CITY TO NEHALEM VALLEY.

COLUMBIA CITY, June 22, 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

On the 15th of this month by previous appointment myself, associated with four other persons—Messrs. Carlos, Brock, Brown and Miller—started to cut and blaze a trail from this place to Nehalem valley. We succeeded in cutting a trail to the waters of the Claskanine, a distance of eight miles, and then returned for more help and will resume the work in a few days and complete the trail to the valley. The country over which we passed is perfectly splendid for a road, almost a water level after passing over the Columbia river hill, and we saw some fine bottom lands on the Claskanine. Mr. Brock says it is equal to the Nehalem valley lands though not so much grass or open lands and some parties here think of locating claims there. We have received some letters from parties wishing to locate in the valley and asking some questions as regards the country, and how to get there. Briefly I will say the country over which I passed along the bay, bend for a distance of fourteen miles unoccupied is splendid for settlement, especially for stock raising, vegetables, fruit, etc. The best way to get there at present is by the way of Forest Grove, at least those with stock and teams, though we will soon have a way [illegible] from here which will shorten the trip one half at least. More anon.

LATE CHRISTIANITY.—A [illegible] story of city neighborliness touched [illegible] the other day and [illegible] tell it to you. A young lady carried some gift to a small hospital nearly opposite her own house. [illegible] sympathetic [illegible] and soon found that [illegible] took great comfort in looking into the lighted sitting room of her own house [illegible] all the pleasant family [illegible] and they were sorry when the shades shut [illegible] After that all winter long the shades were left up until the hospital [illegible] and they grew very fond of the family group whom they knew [illegible] who were so willing to [illegible] part towards setting [illegible] in families.

At a meeting of the delegates from the various subordinate granges of Marion county held at Gervais June [illegible] [illegible] David son, P. P. Castleman and G. W. Hunt were elected delegates to the State Grange to be held at Albany on [illegible] of next September.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate

WASHINGTON, June 22.—[illegible] the retirement of Col. Wm. H. Emory [illegible] general [illegible]

[illegible] consideration [illegible] the naval appropriation bill was [illegible] Sargent in charge of the bill [illegible] the estimates for the [illegible] fiscal year was $[illegible] The amount [illegible] [illegible] by the new [illegible] with the appropriation bill [illegible] present year [illegible] [illegible] for the Senate there was reduction of the [illegible] in the number of [illegible] the reduction made by [illegible] it necessary to increase the amount all would [illegible] as it came from the House. The committee did not propose to reduce the number of officers of the navy [illegible] but [illegible] inadequacy for their compensation [illegible] several years past the appropriations [illegible] the appropriations for the pay of the navy for previous years as the balance for that service [illegible] to be paid back into the treasury at the end of the fiscal year [illegible] the appropriation of $[illegible] made. The law fixed their compensation and not one dollar less would not pay. The service might be top heavy and no doubt there were too many officers for the men, but whether it was possible or not to reduce the number of officers of the navy was a difficult question. Many of the officers of the navy had rendered valuable service to the country and it might be the part of gratitude to allow large retired and active lists to the navy.

He then referred to the increase in appropriations for the bureau of construction and repairs and said if we would have a navy at all it must be kept in repair. After some further debate the several amendments proposed by the committee on appropriations were agreed to. The amendments were debated pro and con by several Senators. At length the amendment was reached to increase the appropriation for the bureau of yards and docks from $[illegible] to $[illegible] and it was rejected. Yeas 2[illegible], nays 2[illegible]—Ingalls, Edmunds, Hamilton and Morrill of Vermont voting with the Democrats in the negative.

Sargent moved to reconsider the vote by which the other appropriations in the bill had been increased and said if he could not get his hands [illegible] his friends to stand by the bill he would re[illegible] the bill as it came from the House of Representatives.

Edmunds thought in disposing of any appropriations it was better to take the lowest. It seems impossible when Congress [illegible] in December next and it should be found that the amount is not enough for the service a deficiency bill could be passed. He did not think the Senator from California should rebuke his political friends for suggesting the [illegible]. He was disposed to stand by the committee in all appropriations to carry existing laws into effect, and Morrill of Vermont said he had great confidence in the Senator from California, but he thought the appropriations for some of the bureaus and navy yards could be reduced and after discussion Sargent withdrew his motion to reconsider. The appropriation for the bureau of construction and repairs was increased from [illegible] to [illegible]

Edmunds submitted the following as a substitute for the clause in the House bill: No increase of force of any navy yard shall be made at any time within sixty days before any election to take place for President or member of Congress except when the secretary of the navy shall certify that the needs of the public service make such increase necessary at that time. This was agreed to.

The appropriation for the bureau of steam engineering was raised from $[illegible] to one million. The bill was then reported to the Senate and passed. Adjourned.

House.

House met at 11 A. M. and immediately went into committee of the whole on the sundry civil appropriation bill, the question being on the amendment to have the public printing done under contract by the lowest bidder, which after discussion was agreed to. The point having been reached in the bill directing the secretary of the treasury to reserve of the revenues for the District of Columbia a sum sufficient to meet the interest of the 3 65 bonds accruing within the next fiscal year and apply the same to that purpose, Randall moved to add a provision that in case there should not be a sufficient amount of revenue belonging to the district at such time as the interest may be due the Secretary of the Treasury shall advance the amount necessary and shall reimburse it to the treasury out of the district revenue.

After debate the amendment was adopted.

At this point the House voted to cut off debate by 121 against 75—a strict party vote.

Chandler moved to strike out whatever related to the enforcement act, rejected.

The question of the enforcement act came up again on motion of Chandler to strike out the item of $25,000 for the detection and prosecution of crimes against the United States. The amendment was adopted. Soon after the House took a recess till [illegible] o'clock.

The Senate amendments to the Indian appropriation bill were non concurred in and a committee of conference ordered. Landall, Sparks and Hurlbut were appointed.

The House then resumed the consideration of the sundry civil bill.

A great number of amendments were proposed and rejected on the subject of town post offices and public buildings. At last Piper moved to increase the item for appraisers at San Francisco from $[illegible] to $100,000. He characterized the course of the committee on appropriations as miserable economy, deserving the denunciation of decent men, taught and encouraged in the Democratic side. Some reply was made to Piper's speech but the allegation as to the impossibility of making a silk purse out of a sow's ear was quoted by Randall in allusion [illegible] but it reached the ear of Piper, who, [illegible] and demanded what Randall meant. No reply was made to Piper and pending the vote on Piper's amendment the committee rose, having disposed of half the bill, and the House at [illegible] adjourned.

The Seattle Intelligencer of June 17th says: A young man named Martin had been paying his attentions to a daughter of Mr. Bedell for some time past against Bedell's wishes. On Thursday evening, Martin succeeded in inducing the young lady to accompany him to Seattle for the purpose of getting married. Her father, on Friday morning came to town and employed W. H. White to prevent, if possible, the marriage. Finally under the advice of Mr. White the parties all returned to Mr. Bedell's house for the purpose of celebrating the marriage of Martin with the daughter, a license having been procured and a justice of the peace engaged to perform the ceremony. After returning to Bedell's residence an altercation occurred between him and his intended son in law, when the former discharged a shotgun at the latter, some of the shot taking effect in Martin's arm. In the excitement of the occasion Mrs. Bedell fainted and ruptured a blood vessel. Drs. Sparling and Bagley were called, and found that Mrs. Bedell was beyond human aid. A complaint for an assault with intent to kill has been sworn out by Martin against Mr. Bedell, who has not yet been arrested on account of the dying condition of his wife. We have since learned that Mrs. Bedell is dead.

Speaking of the late revelations of official corruption in the United States, the London Free Press of March 20th has the following: "We make these comparisons in no spirit of Pharisaism. Although the public servants of this country are now free even from the suspicion of being corrupt, they were not always so and we are all still but too well acquainted with the art of electoral bribery. In England there was a time when official parliamentary corruption had reached a stage of light shamelessness. The purchase so late as last century of votes in the House of Commons, the open sale of parliamentary seats and the traffic in public offices make up one of the most discreditable chapters in our history. We recur to it in order to remind America of the means by which the public service of this country has been made the purest in the world. The fight was so long and hard that it often seemed hopeless, but thorough investigations and strict punishment to the offenders at last brought our affairs into tangible shape and left us with men of pure morals and honesty of purpose to legislate for us. Let our American neighbors promptly punish those who take any part in public plundering and thus remove the disgrace brought on them by the heads of their government."

Tilden Opposed to the Chinese.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—A dispatch received from Senator Rouch, dated at Albany, New York, yesterday, states that he had interviewed Gov. Tilden and impressed him favorably with his views on the Chinese question. The Governor is a strong opponent of Chinese immigration. Roach also interviewed Manton Marble and the editor of the Albany Argus. The Senator has drafted a strong anti-Chinese plank for the St. Louis convention which will obtain the support of these gentlemen

Absconded.

Nathan D. Parker, recently employed as clerk by A. E. Magill, agent for the Phoenix and Home insurance companies, has absconded, taking with him about $14,000 of his employers' money, besides beating a large number of people about town out of greater or less amounts

More Resignations—The San Francisco Whisky Ring Jubilant.

Private dispatches received in this city last evening state that in consequence of the resignation of Bristow, Assistant Secretaries of the Treasury Conant and Burnham have both resigned, or will do so, and that Commissioner of Internal Revenue Pratt will take the same course. This is in contradiction of the press dispatches published this morning. A good deal of talking has been done by government officials and the general belief is that the departure of Special Treasury Agent Mills, of the custom house department, will be followed by that of others who have been working up whisky matters, in case Pratt carries out his intention to resign. The citizens here known to be connected with whisky rings are loud in their expressions of satisfaction at the turn things have taken and those who were interested in defrauding the customs. The department is jubilant over the departure of Special Agent Mills, who has made himself obnoxious to that class of people by the disposition he has shown in ferreting out smugglers and their tricks. It is considered that his recall comes just in time to avoid any unpleasant consequences that might arise from too close an investigation of the alleged infraction of immigration regulations in the landing of Chinese women from Pacific Mail steamers disguised in male apparel, and the illegal landing of dutiable goods without the formality of entry. In this connection a private letter from a gentleman in the customs department in New York has been received here stating that Bristow had only begun to show up the corruption prevailing in that branch of the Treasury Department, and that if permitted to continue his work facts would come to light showing a degree of corruption that would astonish the country. Meantime pending the arrival of further advices from Washington, agents and officials here are in a state of general uncertainty as to what will be the next move. Bristow's friends here who believe themselves somewhat familiar with the state of affairs in Washington, are not disposed to blame him for resigning, considering that it was practically forced upon him

O'Leary Throws Up the Sponge.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—At 3:25 this morning O'Leary threw up the sponge for the time being, his physician forbidding him to walk longer. He had been bleeding at the nose almost constantly. At the time of leaving off he had made 217 miles and will reappear to-morrow evening, if able. The amateurs continue their tramp and at noon had covered 316 miles. To keep up the interest during O'Leary's absence, two amateurs of the Olympic Club at noon started on a race of 150 miles for $100 and a gold medal.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The walking match came to an inglorious end this evening. As before reported O'Leary left the track this morning by the advice of his physician. That caused the interest to flag, although the amateurs kept up the tramp during the day, but this evening the gentleman who came on at 8 o'clock found an array of empty benches to welcome his entrance, and after walking two miles retired in disgust. The amateurs did their best, and in 6 hours rolled up a score of 351 miles, nearly each one of which was represented by a blister. The expenses of the entertainment have probably far exceeded the gate money, and the pedestrians have their labor for their pains

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—A large quantity of coal on the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's dock was attached yesterday at the instance of H. B. Berryman, on a claim against the company for $109,000, alleged to be due him on a breach of coal contract running over a term of five years

Unknown Corpse Found.

This morning the body of an unknown man was found floating in the bay at Vallejo street wharf, and was taken to the morgue.

Leroy vs. Spring Valley Water Company.

This being the day set for taking the deposition of R. M. Brechton in the case of Leroy vs. the Spring Valley Water Company, all parties were present. Mr. Phelan for plaintiff, stated that he had concluded to dismiss the proceedings in regard to the taking of the deposition

Lost at Sea.

SAN DIEGO, June 22.—The barkentine Tropic, 20 days from Tacoma, arrived night before last. On her trip down her first mate, Mr. Butler, fell overboard and was lost.

Fruit Crop.

The fruit crop in this vicinity was never so promising. The trees are heavily loaded. Harvesting is progressing favorably. The yield is much better than was anticipated. The weather has been cloudy and foggy with south wind for the past three weeks.

Hackett Catches One of the Robbers.

MARYSVILLE, June 22.—Detective Hume and Hackett, W. F. & Co.'s messenger, arrived here at 2 o'clock this morning having in charge a man known as Liverpool, one of the party that attempted to rob the Brownsville stage yesterday at Stanfield hill. Hackett, in company with one man, returned to the place where he found the highwaymen's clothing, and laid in wait. Liverpool came in sight shortly after, and was instantly covered by the guns of the waiting party and commanded to surrender, which he did, having no alternative but to do so or die. Liverpool is an old rounder. He was taken to San Francisco to-day. W. F. & Co.'s box which they were after yesterday, contained $17,000

Drowned.

PETALUMA, June 22.—A son of Hiram Roach, a merchant of this place, was drowned in Petaluma creek. The body was recovered but all efforts to restore life proved unsuccessful

Fatal Accident.

LYTROPOLIS, June 22.—An accident occurred in the San Fernando tunnel this afternoon. The foreman, named Connor, was instantly killed. Two other white men were badly hurt and supposed to be blinded and a number of Chinamen badly and several fatally injured. It was caused by the bursting of a blast through from one division of the tunnel to another. The two divisions of working men had, it would seem, approached each other nearer than they had supposed with the above results

A New Paper in the Interest of Hayes and Wheeler

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—There is strong talk among leading Republicans of starting a daily paper in the interest of that party. It will probably be a morning paper, and be recognized as the organ of the friends of Hayes and Wheeler

Mother against Son.

A very extraordinary case has been commenced in Justice Gray's court by a mother who asks for the arrest and conviction of her son, a hopeful youth of 18, who it seems according to the complaint is in the habit of beating his mother. She has stood hard treatment from her boy until she is forced to ask the assistance of the law to protect her.

Safe Robber Arrested.

SHASTA, June 22.—James Demoret, one of the Trinity Center safe robbers, was rearrested at Anderson yesterday by Constable Thos. Bell, and brought to this place by Under Sheriff Kennedy, and was taken to Weaverville to-day by J. W. Philbrook, sheriff of Trinity county. He acknowledges the crime, but throws all the blame of shooting at the sheriff on Trinity mountain, last Tuesday night, on his partner, Chas. Burch, who was killed in the encounter

UTAH.

Broke Jail.

SALT LAKE, June 22.—Seven persons broke out of the penitentiary this afternoon after capturing the guard and securing all their guns, pistols and ammunition, along with three horses and escaped. Harrison Carter, acting as cook in the penitentiary, was shot and will probably die. It is rumored that the warden was killed, but this lacks confirmation. Among the prisoners are several who were instrumental in the killing of Capt. Berger, a former warden

NEVADA.

Fire.

CARSON, June 22.—For the first time in several months, the people were aroused by a fire alarm this afternoon caused by the burning of a large vat of tar which was being boiled in the yard of the gas works. The works and several adjacent buildings narrowly escaped destruction. A man named Frank Craven was run over by a fire engine going to the fire and received injuries which will probably prove fatal

Suicide.

VIRGINIA, June 22.—S. F. Hill, Western Union Telegraph operator at Silver City, Nevada, committed suicide this morning by poison. He leaves a wife and child

THE BAPTIST CENTENNIAL SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Second Day—Afternoon Session.

At 4 P. M., a specimen teachers' meeting, led by the conductor, brought out the following plan: 1. It should be regarded a meeting for prayer. 2. Subjects for prayer presented. 3. Consultations. 4. Difficulties presented. 5. Plan for Sunday school work. 6. The lesson.

An invitation was given the convention to visit the State Penitentiary.

Song, "What hast thou done for me."

Benediction by the conductor.

Evening Session.

At 7:30 P. M. a devotional meeting was held, led by Rev. Sterling Hill. Rev. C. W. Rees presented a historical sketch entitled, "The Baptist and the Centennial." After this address the song entitled, "Hold the Fort," was sung with remarkable enthusiasm, after which Rev. R. C. Hill delivered an impromptu address on "Early Reminiscences of Baptists in Oregon," which was received with applause.

Song, "We shall Meet by and by."

Benediction by Rev. A. J. Hunsaker of Albany. Adjournment.

Third Day.

Devotional exercises, led by Bro. A. C. Moody, followed by a Bible reading led by the conductor.

The following question was then discussed, opened by Rev. R. C. Hill, viz: "Bible schools as an evangelizing agency, and what we may hope from them in the next one hundred years." Prof. M. Bailey, Rev. Addison Jones and Rev. J. C. Baker took part in this discussion.

The report of the committee on future plan of work of the convention, was received and adopted.

The committee reported as follows:

1. Appoint a commission of three to nominate a Sunday school commission consisting of three persons.

2. This commission to have the supervision of the Sunday school work in the State for the year, reporting to the convention at the next annual session.

3. This commission to arrange for four sectional meetings during the year—the last to be a State mass convention; also to arrange programme for such convention.

4. This commission to appoint in each association an associational corresponding secretary, who shall aid in working up the Sunday school interest in his association, in organizing new schools and in giving the commission such information as they need to prosecute the work.

5. That an effort shall be made, and every legitimate means used, to secure the organization of a Sunday school in each of our churches and mission schools wherever this can be done.

6. The commission to gather and present to the next annual meeting, as nearly as possible, the statistics of our schools in the State and Washington Territory.

For this work and to aid this commission, when so appointed, we as delegates and members of this convention pledge our hearty prayerful support.

Rev. D. J. Pierce, of Portland, Rev. A. J. Hunsaker, of Albany, and Rev. C. W. Rees, of Eugene City, were appointed as commissioners to carry on the work of the convention in accordance with the above report.

Afternoon Session.

Rev. T. J. Huff, of Oregon City, addressed the convention on "How to lead little children to Christ," and was listened to with earnest attention by the children present.

This was followed by a song by the choir, led by Bro. Yeaton of the Salem Baptist Sunday school.

The remainder of the evening was then given up to the Salem Baptist Sunday school, which was not only an interesting feature of the convention work but was also instructive and profitable throughout. About fifteen little girls and boys repeated alternately as many lessons of the International series. At the commencement of this exercise, a little boy only five or six years of age knelt down and repeated the Lord's prayer with remarkable distinctness and child like simplicity. A class of little girls under the charge of Mrs. Al. Kinney repeated the ten commandments alternately and was followed by a solo by Miss Leona Willis, only seven years of age, who did very well indeed for one of such tender years.

Essays were read by Dr. Jessup and Bro. J. E. Strong of the Salem school, followed by a solo by Mrs. Boynton of Salem.

The conductor was called upon, who gave the school a complimentary address of five minutes, after which the convention adjourned until 7:30 P. M., with a song from the school and benediction by Rev. C. W. Rees.

After the adjournment of the Convention a number of the members remained, in response to an invitation given by Rev. A. J. Hunsaker, corresponding secretary of the Baptist Sunday School Convention of Oregon, to take into consideration the question of calling a meeting of said convention. Prayer by Dr. Hill. After considerable discussion upon the question the following resolution was offered and adopted.

Resolved, That we ask the officers or executive committee of the Baptist State Convention of Oregon to call the convention together at Portland during the meeting of the Willamette Association this year.

NOTES FROM SALEM.

Under date of June 22d, our regular correspondent sends the following:

Hoag E. Akin, short-stop of the College Club, is confined to his room by illness.

The OREGONIAN failed to reach your mail subscribers this morning, to their great disappointment.

Arthur Bell, an old resident of Oregon City, died here on Tuesday last, and was taken to his home for burial.

The Dallas camp meeting will hold over another Sabbath. Up to the present time about one dozen have been immersed.

The ladies of the Episcopal church will give a strawberry and ice cream festival at the Legislative Hall on Tuesday evening next.

There is a prospect for a friendly game of base ball between the Nippers, of Gervais, and our College clubs, in this city, Saturday next.

Intelligence from Portland regarding the high water is anxiously looked for, and a general desire is manifest to visit the city and see the sights.

The College Club feel justly indignant at the slur thrown out by the Journal of Wednesday evening. They intend playing and will probably beat the Portland base ball clubs on their own grounds.

That was a severe joke on Salem when a few days ago the OREGONIAN announced the river as r[illegible] two feet at this place. It is at a dead stand still and has not varied as many inches for some time past.

Tiger Engine Co. No. 2, of the Salem Fire Department, have [illegible] the ne[illegible] ry appropriations, and will attend your Centennial in a body. The Capitals will remain at home to guard the property of our citizens.

Frank M. Bewley, Esq., who has been chosen to read the Declaration of Ind[ependence] [illegible] in your city, is practicing daily while standing waist deep in the Willamette, to become accustomed to it before appearing in Portland.

The College [illegible] Ball Club forwarded to-day their entrance fee and formally entered the contest for the Centennial prize [illegible] in your city. They are excellent players, and will do their level best to walk away with the honors.

A special train will be run from Albany to Gervais on Sunday next to accommodate all who may desire to attend the Spiritual Camp Meeting to commence at Gervais and hold over until the 26th inclusive. Half fare rates will be granted.

The commencement exercises at the Academy of the Sacred Heart, will take place on Wednesday next. They promise to be of an exceedingly interesting character. Your correspondent will endeavor to be present and report proceedings.

Frank M. Johnson, charged with [illegible] with a dangerous weapon, in J. W. [illegible] was honorably acquitted by the Circuit Court this morning, the jury returning a verdict at the conclusion of the [illegible] without argument and before leaving [illegible] in the jury box. This is the [illegible] case on the docket for this term and as yet no conviction. Rather a heavy [illegible] for tax-payers.

A subscription paper is being circulated about Seattle for the purpose of raising funds to be given as purses at the [illegible] which are to be run at that place on the 19th, 20th and 21st of next month. Mr. Dyer reports that the 16 horses now [illegible] at [illegible] will [illegible] be at [illegible] [illegible] are offered, as will three [illegible] Victoria. It is proposed to offer [illegible] in purses, [illegible] and a money [illegible] to the winners among the different [illegible] of horses to be entered for the races.

A letter to the Tribune says: The house of [illegible] five Chinamen was [illegible] and entered into by a young [illegible] in [illegible] Vista and $73 in coin and a silver watch taken. A warrant was issued for his arrest, but he [illegible] found a cooler climate, and they have not yet caught him.

A NOMINATION THAT WILL GROW

Hayes' nomination for President will grow more and more popular to the day of the election. The Democracy can find nothing against him, or they would have produced it sometime during these years when he was cleaning out their 'Blest' editors so handsomely. Meanwhile the record he made during his former term as Governor of the great State of Ohio, is just such a record as the people expect in the man who would ask their support for the highest position in the Republic. He made there a reputation for executive ability of high order, and it is said to his praise that the officers appointed by him were of higher character and standing than those selected by any Governor before or since. He will command the vote of the liberal as well as the partisan Republicans, as nearly unanimously as any man who could have been selected. As against any Bourbon candidate or any of the partisan leaders of the Democracy who can be named by the St Louis Convention, Hayes will have the united support of all people of Republican sentiments, and having this, his election will be almost certain. The South will go Democratic, because the South is Democratic on a fair vote; the North will come forward with her old Republican majorities, as has been the case in Presidential elections for years. It is a fact which must be taken into account in computing the chances, while various Northern States are deemed uncertain in ordinary State elections, the same States are found standing together and standing Republican when the test of a Presidential election comes.

ALE VS WHISKY

A brewers' convention was recently held in New York, in which some remarkable statements were made, showing that in countries where the inhabitants were large consumers of beer drunkenness was uncommon, and that where no or very little beer was consumed, drunkenness prevailed to a large extent. It was shown that in Bavaria, a country where drunkenness is comparatively unknown and where it is the most uncommon spectacle to see a native intoxicated, the consumption of beer amounts to upward of sixty gallons a year for each adult. In Wirtemberg the consumption was a little less, and there, too, drunkenness is extremely rare. In England, where only half so much beer or ale is consumed, it is well known that the vice of drinking to intoxication is very common. But the most marked difference is to be noticed in Russia. In that Empire drunkenness is more common than in any other country on the globe. There, the amount of beer or ale consumed is only about one quart a year for each adult. The Russians are addicted to the use of brandy and arrack in large quantities, and despise the milder German fluid. The investigation of the use of malt liquors and of the prevalence of intoxication was not confined to the countries above mentioned, but was extended to many others, including our own, and the results arrived at showed that wherever beer and ale were the favorite drinks the people were temperate and sober, and that drunkenness and the consumption of malt varied inversely.

It may, perhaps, be true that the brewers made the best possible showing in favor of the products of their breweries, and that their statements are not to be taken without some grains of allowance. But it cannot be denied that the common consumption of such beverages as ale, beer and the light wines of France and the Rhine country is more beneficial than that of ardent spirits. Experience has shown that men will have some sort of liquid stronger than water to drink, in spite of all that can be done to hinder them. Since this is so, it certainly seems wise to provide them with that kind of liquor which is least injurious. Hence the use of the light wines of France, and of the equally good wines of our own country should be encouraged as a means for abolishing the fearfully injurious use of ardent spirits and of promoting in the most effective manner the cause of temperance.

TOO MUCH WATER

"All the world's a stage," the great dramatist [illegible] added, and Portland's stage just now appears to be a high stage of water—say from two to three feet over the Front street level. Water is a very good thing in its way, notably to make tea or brew beer with. It is very useful to bathe in occasionally and it may even sometimes be used in small quantities (say a teaspoonful or two) as a dilutant with refractory whisky, but in the volume in which we are having the aqueous liquid at present not a [illegible] of us feel as if we were having just a little too much of it. To be drowned is said—by competent judges who have tried the experiment and may therefore be supposed to know all about it—to be the pleasantest way of shuffling off this mortal coil, but if we had any choice in the matter we should prefer to be decently drowned—as the good Duke of Clarence is said to have been—in a butt of good old Malmsey wine rather than in the Columbia, or even in our own Willamette in its present depth and temperature.

Thus far we are without any well authenticated report of deaths from drowning, but the return of a journalistic friend from the upriver districts of the Columbia and Cowlitz rivers, whose journeyings east and north have been stayed by the floods, enables us to present our readers with a few facts respecting the present rise which will be read with interest if not with profit. The principal damage seems to have been sustained by our city and upriver hotels. The Oregon house at Walla Walla is submerged to its lower story if not washed away—the reports being somewhat conflicting. The Umatilla House at Dalles City is in a bad way and threatening a change of base, while our own Clarendon, Cosmopolitan, Occidental, American Exchange, National and other houses on the front and low levels rather resemble the floating baths on the Seine than the comfortable hostelries they are in less moist and watery times. We are evidently passing through a trying ordeal and one which it is hoped will not be without its [illegible] to our readers far and near. Nothing will save Portland [illegible] from this period [illegible] change of grade. Let our low lying high water level be raised a few feet and all will be well in future. We can then bid defiance to the Columbia and hold our heads and carry our feet, too, above water. We have suffered from water on the brain long enough; let us not sink into indifference or something worse still. A laissez faire is not the policy for us to pursue in this crisis.

CITY.

STILL IN OPERATION High water has rendered the suspension of work at W[illegible] mill necessary Capt J [illegible] however has contrived to keep his box factory in operation notwithstanding the [illegible] There is now six inches of water on the lower story but he has raised most of his machinery one foot high and [illegible] so that he can stand two feet more [illegible] still run Notwithstanding the [illegible] under which operations are carried on his force of men turn out daily about 1 000 [illegible] Wednesday evening the steamer [illegible] under command of Captain James Fisher [illegible] here from Cathlamet, having in tow [illegible] fine large spruce logs for the factory Towing against the powerful current of the Columbia at the present stage is no child's play [illegible] Capt Fisher thinks so This [illegible] Capt Hedow will go down the river to make arrangements for bringing up an [illegible] raft which is expected to arrive here in a few days

ANNIE STEWART ARRIVED—The steamer Annie Stewart arrived at Olympia on the 21st inst In speaking of the boat the Echo says She was brought from the Columbia river and is now the property of the Starr [illegible] From a brief examination of the [illegible] we would unhesitatingly pronounce her a good river boat. It is not probable that she will stand the heavy seas which she is liable to encounter on the Sound like her rival Her cabin is roomy and comfortable She does not compare very favorably with the [illegible] Pacific, her predecessor—the excellencies of which vessel we all now appreciate fully [illegible] so much as we can enjoy them [illegible] So far as the speed of the Annie Stewart is concerned, we cannot arrive at a definite conclusion Report has it that she can run from 12 to 20 miles an hour We presume the first figures given are most nearly correct The Stewart is now carrying the U. S. mails between this city and Victoria

WELL EASTWARD—Mr West writing from Ogden under date of the 18th says The Oregon chartered car still in progress and all well, The heat still intolerable but nights cool. All are jubilant, hopeful and happy Variety is the spice of life We have both the sweet harmonious strains of the elder gently mingle with the discordant notes of the juvenile members of our company The physical wants of man are many his natural [illegible] We realize this every day more from necessity than choice We have combined the grand dining hotel car silver palace sleeping car, and passenger coach car in one. The cars are crowded both ways Many are going West very many to Oregon Agent of immigration is doing a good business in that line and still the people need more information

LIST OF PASSENGERS—This morning at three o'clock the steamer John L. Stephens will sail hence for San Francisco She will carry hence the following passengers J Spencer Miss A[illegible] Brock Mr DuBois M. Anna J A Am[illegible] N B Ingalls and two children Mrs W. W[illegible] Freeman Mrs G W Durbrow D Shaper O P Sites Mrs Barnhart Mrs J C Henderson and child, Wm Hannan Miss [illegible] White S Redfield [illegible] Miss J Curtis Mrs Mather, Mrs G W Bibbons Mr Thurber [illegible] Rev Wm Roberts and wife, Mrs [illegible] Mrs N B Ingalls and child, [illegible] W H Pape Mrs C L Calef [illegible] Metcalf J A [illegible] Mr Hartman [illegible] Ross, B Goldsmith and son Miss [illegible] F E Harrish and W I [illegible] [illegible]

A DEDICATION—Next Sunday, says the [illegible] the Catholic church at McMinnville [illegible] dedicated to the service of Almighty God under the patronage of St James Rev W A Verboort will preach on the occasion, and Archbishop Blanchet will celebrate the [illegible] Mass Visiting friends from Portland can leave the city by the eastside railroad [illegible] afternoon and return again Monday [illegible] Immediately after the dedication a mission will commence to continue eight days. Rev W A Verboort will preach every day during the octave

RECEPTION ENTERTAINMENT—This (Friday) evening the young ladies of Plymouth church, corner of Fourteenth and E streets will give one of their pleasant and agreeable entertainments in the way of a strawberry and ice cream festival, commencing at 8 o'clock The Rev J H Daley of Painesville, Ohio will address those present The many friends of Mr Daley will have an opportunity of meeting with the reverend gentleman in a social capacity Admittance free A cordial invitation is extended to the public

FESTIVAL—The ice cream and strawberry festival given at the Odd Fellows hall, East Portland Wednesday evening was an enjoyable affair Everything was provided in abundance and the ladies did their best to render satisfaction in every respect The music by Mrs Cole, and the literary exercises by Misses Fannie Griffith, Kanzetta Teeple and Dora McCauley, added much to the varieties of the evening

YOUR STATE AND COUNTY GENTLEMEN—Mr O M [illegible] county assessor, announces that after the 23d he will be at his office every day from [illegible] to 5 P M, for the purpose of receiving statements of assessments The time is now quite limited, and it will be to the interest of all those [illegible] to make up their own statements and hand them in without any delay

PERSONAL.

Hon Wm [illegible], agent of Siletz Indian reservation was in the city a few days ago

Rev Wm. Roberts will leave by the steamer this morning for a visit to Philadelphia He is accompanied by his wife, and will be gone two or three months

Mrs. J H Wilbur reached this city from the Dalles on Saturday last Rev Mr Wilbur arrived by the steamer of Tuesday He looks quite vigorous and happy after his labors in the General Conference

Mrs. Milred Quinsey of Klamath reservation is now on a visit to her friends in this city. Her husband Dr Boyd Quinsey is government physician for the Indians at that agency and has been quite successful in his practice

Mr F H Hall who is sojourning in the city collecting materials for his forthcoming book is staying at the Holton House where we are requested to say he would be glad to have sent the information relative to the trade products and resources of the State which has been promised him He will leave Saturday morning [illegible] on his way East

SMALL NOTES

A basket [illegible] will be held at the camp ground [illegible] Cowlitz county W T on the [illegible] and [illegible] days of July

The last traces of the old wooden buildings which have so long stood at the corner of Morrison and First streets are fast disappearing

In the State Circuit Court in the case of Mary [illegible] Farrott vs Arthur F [illegible] the jury have [illegible] the plaintiff in the sum of [illegible]

While the high water [illegible] the steamer [illegible] will land at the [illegible] foot of Salmon street

Dan Holton had [illegible] his saloon on Wednesday night but [illegible] [illegible] the best of him

A good many persons [illegible] yesterday Some through [illegible] misunderstanding between parties

[illegible] dispatches from the Dalles [illegible] from 4 o'clock [illegible] A M to 4 o'clock P M the river has risen only 1½ inches

B street between Fifth and Seventh was filled yesterday with [illegible] sidewalk aprons and detached portions of plank roadway

The water at 12 o'clock last night was [illegible] inches higher than the high water mark of '62 The Centennial year beat it and that may be put on the record

A number of ladies residing in the northern portion of the city were to be seen yesterday afternoon patroling the streets vainly endeavoring to reach their homes

Last evening a lady while traveling down First street missed her footing and took an involuntary bath She swooned from excessive fright and it was with extreme difficulty that she could be restored

Some persons disposed to have fun got up a monument of boxes and boards at the corner of Front and Pine streets on which we noticed several signs with peculiar marks and a wreath on which hung a number of dead rats

Capt J C Ainsworth received the following telegram last evening from the Dalles sent at 4:45 o'clock which looks encouraging Just returned from Celilo Everything there safe and apprehend that there will be no further damage or danger to property Have had most of the embankments staved with rock and brush and am still at work at some of them No report from Foot to day but am satisfied everything is O K on the road or he would advise me. THE STAGE OF WATER

SUMMARY FOR THE WEEK ENDING YESTERDAY

The river has steadily risen since last Thursday It is now about two feet or a little more higher than the [illegible] and several inches higher than it was in 1862 when it was higher than at any previous time of which record has been kept All the northern part of the city from Washington street and back from the river several blocks is under water B street is submerged as far back as Sixth street and the Albina ferry boat lands its passengers at the foot of Fourth street near the residence of Capt G H Flanders North of Washington street on Front and to a considerable extent on First, business is suspended—the floors of most of the stores being covered with water. The amount of damage already caused is very considerable, but the full extent of it cannot be estimated until the subsidence of the flood. It is probable that the planking of many of the streets will have to be taken up and replaced and the Nicholson pavement on the northern part of Front and First will probably have to be relaid Fifty thousand dollars has been mentioned as the amount of damage already done, but that sum will hardly cover it At present the water is not rising perceptibly It is thought the highest point has been reached and that the water will soon begin to recede

Monday evening the Orleans hotel at Umatilla was carried away Same evening Fred Benzer's bakery at the Dalles was washed away Wednesday evening the back portion of Mersman & Louis stone building at the Dalles was washed out One third of the O S N Co's large warehouse at Celilo—about 300 feet—was carried off last Saturday night Two small fisheries on Deer Island and one house above Maxwell's landing have been carried away Sullivan's fish house at the mouth of Cole creek above Oak Point has also been swept away Wednesday evening a large building was seen to float past Kalama and a portion of a large frame building was seen the same day stranded on rocks below Martin's Bluff Yesterday a small [illegible] fishery located at Warrior Point just above St Helens yielded to the high water and floated majestically down on the current

MAIL ROBBERY CASE.

TRIAL IN U. S. DISTRICT COURT [illegible] PHELPS FOR ROBBING THE MAIL

Third Day.

Court met pursuant to adjournment The court having considered the objection made by counsel for defendant to the introduction as testimony of the document purporting to be the information upon which the warrant for the arrest of defendant was issued sustained said objection and the paper was excluded

[illegible]

Was called and testified [illegible] of Baker county was present when defendant was arrested in [illegible] Cal [illegible] When the warrant was read [illegible] This must be some mistake about this [illegible] When the name of [illegible] was read [illegible] That is my name [illegible] detailed at some length the [illegible] taken by the prisoner [illegible] having him in custody after the arrest [illegible] to Portland [illegible] had been searching for defendant until starting for him with a warrant I had been endeavoring to find his whereabouts—kept track of him through other parties since [illegible] I do not know that defendant had been to this State since that time until he was brought here in custody

Cross examination—I know that defendant [illegible] taken from [illegible] was arrested [illegible] taken [illegible]

[illegible]—She arrived [illegible] back to this State at Fremont [illegible] for a short time do not know where he went of my own personal knowledge [illegible] the State saw him [illegible] the officer

Cross examination—Do not know when defendant left the State after he returned [illegible] not know that when defendant returned from California he came for the purpose of hunting up witnesses obtaining testimony [illegible]

A [illegible]

Was called and testified that he was traveling agent for the house of Wasserman & Co in August 1872 that he knew Phelps that during that month witness sold him an order of goods amounting to $150 0 for which he paid the cash subsequently he sold Phelps about $10 or $15 worth of merchandise for which he has not paid

[illegible]

Testified know defendant by sight only was agent for Wells Fargo & Co in 1872 am now route agent for that company I saw the defendant at [illegible] landing in the month of November 1873 He was on the boat coming to the Dalles He was traveling alone at that time was not in custody I next saw him in Shasta California in March 1874 next at the same place in October 1874 have been endeavoring to keep track of defendant since that time I have never seen him in this State since November, 1873

Cross examination—Never saw defendant under arrest in this State I went to Gov Grover to procure a requisition for defendant's arrest in California did procure the Governor's warrant for defendant's arrest in this State on requisition of the Governor of California and placed the warrant in the hands of the sheriff of Baker county some time during the summer or fall of 1873 cannot definitely fix the time now in my mind defendant had a trial I know in California do not know that defendant had any witnesses during that trial from Oregon He had affidavits and depositions of persons residing in Baker and Union counties Defendant had three trials and was finally acquitted He was acquitted in December 1873—I was informed

[illegible]

On being called testified that he resided in Portland and was a confectioner by occupation He knew Phelps who was in Portland in July and August of 1872 and that he purchased of witness goods to the amount of $50 or $60 Witness could not fix the exact date when he sold the goods to Phelps

Here the prosecution rested their case

The Defense.

The first witness called by the defense was

O W MOORE

Who testified I know Frank Fulford who was sworn as witness in this case; have known him for about eight years in Baker county His general reputation for truth and veracity is bad I know Frank Johnson, who was also sworn as a witness here in this case, have known Johnson since 1861 His general reputation is bad

T W POINDEXTER

Testified I have resided in Canyon City for the past fifteen years know Frank Fulford have known him since 1860 his general reputation is bad

JOHN MCCULLOUGH

Testified I live in Canyon City know Frank Fulford have known him since 1860, know his general reputation to be bad

DAN F MOORE

Live in Union county know Frank Fulford have known him for seven or eight years his general reputation is bad Also know Frank Johnson know his reputation to be bad

[illegible] WHITE

Have known [illegible] Fulford for eight years know his general reputation for truth to be bad

JOHN [illegible]

Live in Grant county know Frank Fulford have known him for a number of years know his reputation to be bad

JOHN [illegible]

Live in Canyon City know Frank Fulford his reputation is bad

[illegible]

Live in John Day valley know where the towns of Dayton and Walla Walla are located I knew F D Phelps [illegible] him about the first of last March in the [illegible] coming from Dayton to Walla Walla in the stage I was coming to Walla Walla too and we came on the same stage I rode on the inside the stage and Phelps on the outside with the driver. At one place we got out of the stage and walked together There were three of us, Phelps, a man named Stevens who was a brother in law of Phelps and myself I had some conversation with Phelps at that time about the robbery I said to him in the course of the conversation Phelps how is it about this robbery case which I hear so much about? He then intimated to me that there was a good deal more [illegible] concerning the robbery) than I knew anything about that I did not know anything about it He also stated to me that he was to receive $[illegible] 00 for his testimony and his expenses back and forth I asked him what [illegible] he had for "splitting on the boys," that if they had all gone in to rob the mails he should [illegible] with them and not blow the [illegible] to which he answered that he was [illegible] for doing that thing

Cross examination—I have been in the county jail for about [illegible] months serving out a sentence for selling liquor to Indians

RALPH WILCOX

Was called and testified substantially that he is Clerk of the U S District and Circuit Courts also U S Commissioner Phelps had not been arraigned before the witness [illegible] has possession of the bond [illegible] Phelps the amount of bail given by Phelps was fixed at $[illegible] with [illegible] as bondsmen Shepardson's bail was fixed at $10 000 but he had never furnished any bonds

Here Court took a recess until [illegible]

Afternoon

Court sat at [illegible] o'clock The plaintiff having closed the examination of his witnesses

JOHN [illegible]

Was called and testified that he was acting postmaster at Canyon City in June and July 1872 [illegible] putting up the caps on which [illegible] dust was sent [illegible] the mail [illegible] [illegible] with [illegible] [illegible] After being [illegible] and the whole [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible]—The [illegible] in which the gold [illegible] are of the color of bright [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] and July 1872 [illegible] the river near the [illegible] and Canyon Fork [illegible] saw him first about 1864 knew [illegible] four years before 1872 knows [illegible]

[illegible] was [illegible] at his [illegible] his testimony of [illegible] he [illegible] was at home when the men stopped there of whom Shaff testified; recollects the occasion but did not know the men one of them rode a bright cream horse rather a [illegible] animal for that country at that time [illegible] recollect as to the other horse [illegible] was at witness' house [illegible] don't think Darnell was one of the men never saw defendant to his recollection until last Tuesday morning

Cross examined—The men did not [illegible] the house they camped [illegible] their meals in the house [illegible] their own horses Witness had written a letter [illegible] not about this case [illegible] talked with Maupin about the case [illegible] United States [illegible] [illegible] attorneys last night [illegible] a stranger [illegible] [illegible] all the persons [illegible] together [illegible]

[illegible] Went to the office of defendant's attorneys [illegible] Mr Thompson [illegible] Re-examined—Could not swear positively that Phelps [illegible] but think he saw him if he [illegible] there

[illegible]

Was a resident of Antelope valley [illegible] testified that he was [illegible] resident [illegible] Antelope Canyon [illegible] [illegible] robbery [illegible] [illegible] place where the stage robbery [illegible] occurred [illegible] about [illegible] from [illegible] place and [illegible] After hearing that the stage had been robbed he started on Sunday morning with Mr Maupin and went to the place where the robbery occurred [illegible] but having heard that [illegible] was seen on the high ridge the night before the road on the evening before the robbery went up there and found slight traces [illegible] freshly turned up went thence to the [illegible] part of the canyon [illegible] which the [illegible] In crossing to this canyon saw signs of tracks but did not think any perfect tracks were found bore off a little south of east and going up the hill found some tracks that were tolerably plain following them out on the upland found tracks in the bunch grass land that were quite perfect and other imperfect ones noticed some peculiar marks about the tracks one was made with a shoe which seemed to have been twisted out of shape (Here witness at counsel's request withdrew from the stand by consent of court

MRS LIZZIE [illegible]

was introduced sworn and testified that she was on the stage at the time it was robbed Her name then was Lizzie [illegible] she has since married At the time of the robbery sat on the next seat behind the driver on the right hand side of the seat There were seven persons on the stage six grown persons and one child In Antelope Canyon three masked men came out of the brush said hold up your hands they had big guns no reply was made to the demand [illegible] hold up [illegible] [illegible] the man on the left hand who said hold up your hands [illegible] throw out the mails and [illegible] throw out the mail sack The same man said [illegible] won't hurt you, Mr. [illegible] After the mail sacks were thrown out he said drive on Witness did not see the hair or eyes of the robbers. One of them only talked After the robbery witness went to John Ward's at [illegible] Hollows and remained there about a year is Ward's granddaughter Know Frank Tompkins saw him at Ward's three days after the robbery and heard him talking, did not recognize his voice as that of the man who did the talking at the time of the robbery did not recognize the voice of any one at the time of the robbery The three men who robbed the stage were described by witness as two tall men and one of medium height the tall men were about six feet the smallest man was about the size and height of Frank Tompkins the tall men were about the height of Hansen and Brandette had been acquainted with Tompkins about six years heard him talk a good many times did not say in her testimony in the trial against Tompkins that she recognized his voice as the one she heard at the robbery

C ADAMS RECALLED

Said of the tracks seen, one of the shoes or boots had a piece or patch in the side of the sole the other was a very broad track about the third track there was nothing very peculiar followed the tracks 2½ miles on and up along the divide between Antelope and Pine creek until a place was found where [illegible] horses had been left At this place there was some small brush but not larger than a lead pencil not over 18 inches high not large enough to hitch a horse to with safety there were some larger bushes about 60 or 70 feet from where the horses had stood but an examination showed that no tracks were found leading to them and no signs that horses had been hitched to them though did not say no horses had been hitched there The ground where the tracks were found was common bunch grass land, soft like [illegible] Near where the horses tracks were found there was a mask made of blue drilling found it had three holes cut in it one for the nose and two for the eyes saw no evidence that the mask had been used for a sweat cloth it was not very bright nor very dirty don't know what was done with it saw it last in possession of Mr Attleberry Attleberry is dead [illegible] not as witness believes used in the trial of the case of the U S vs [illegible] examination of the ground up the hill from where the horses had stood witness found tracks of three persons found horses track leading away only three horses were traced as witness thought followed the tracks back half a mile in the same direction they came in One of the horse tracks was [illegible] mules, thought at first it was a mule track The horse tracks went east from the place where they stood The place where the witness abandoned the trail is 2½ miles from the nearest point on the Canyon City road over a broken and rocky country in some places and grass land in others.

Witness examined the tracks at another time some two or three weeks afterward in company with Maupin Attleberry James Mulkey and Wm Cantrell (A pair heavy much worn and patched boots were shown witness) The boots were much like and he thought were the same he had first seen at Maupin's and compared carefully with the tracks and found that they fitted the tracks exactly On the day of the robbery Maupin and [illegible] M Ward were at witness house

Cross examined—Went to examine the place of the robbery at Maupin's suggestion The first men's tracks or traces were found three quarters of a mile from the place of the robbery The horse tracks were found about two and a half miles from the place of the robbery or a quarter of a mile less on a straight line Devoted a little less than half a day to the examination of the tracks the examination extended over about three miles of distance, gave close attention to the tracks on the day they were first found but did not pay special attention to the peculiar marks until the time of comparing them with the boots The ground had been damp and the [illegible] so as to retain the print of the track The tracks were on common bunch grass land the upper surface is generally dry at that time of the year did not know whether any persons had been there from the time he saw the tracks first until he saw them the second time perhaps they had been did not find the tracks [illegible] Maupin made when first there [illegible] tracks quite distinct, made by each of the several boots [illegible] as described between these [illegible] and the place of the robbery the land where the tracks were found was soft [illegible] inclined to be dusty [illegible] [illegible] the dust would fall into the track when the foot was lifted [illegible] the week the second examination of the tracks was made [illegible] August [illegible] the day before [illegible] August

[illegible]

[illegible] Frank Tompkins [illegible] [illegible] July 1872 Tompkins lived on [illegible] half miles from the residence [illegible] would travel [illegible] Canyon City road [illegible] but that would not be the [illegible] Tompkins place [illegible] three miles [illegible]

[illegible] at [illegible] [illegible] corroborated the testimony of Charles [illegible] in regard to his being at the [illegible] [illegible] on the [illegible] search for the tracks and [illegible] up on the Sunday after the robbery and in the description of the boots or shoes with which the tracks appeared to have been made and the description of the ground [illegible] [illegible] the mask found was of blue drilling and had not been used as a sweat cloth [illegible] no indication that it had [illegible] [illegible] like a piece of cloth which had been in [illegible] Mrs Tompkins had [illegible] which he supposed [illegible] with her, perhaps [illegible] Witness thought there were four horses [illegible] tracks was small [illegible] track, two were [illegible] was considerably above average size for that country The horse making the large track was [illegible] the next larger [illegible] [illegible] only the soil was loose along where the tracks were found on the uplands [illegible] there are a great many mounds or knolls between these knolls the water stands for a long time and when it does nothing will grow there when it dries up the tracks were found in the low places on the Monday after the robbery witness in company with John Attleberry Wm Cantrell, Joseph Cummings and [illegible] Schutz went back and followed the tracks found the previous day and followed them up the divide between the waters of Pine creek and Antelope over the [illegible] [illegible] where the parties they were tracking had built a fire and tramped around a good [illegible] [illegible] pieces about the size of a dollar cut out of a gray blanket and a pistol the pistol was first [illegible] by Mr Attleberry and witness saw it the moment Attleberry picked it up [A pistol was shown witness] it looks very much like the one believe it is the same [illegible] was wet on the muzzle-end he thinks when he first saw it in Attleberry's hand It was [illegible] from this spring witness and those with him went down the hollow until they reached the old Canyon City pack trail then not used, and followed it till they reached the Canyon City stage road separating into two parties they went along this road one party on each side of the road until they reached [illegible] creek station 15 miles from the residence of witness witness first heard of the robbery from [illegible] who came to his house about 11 o'clock on the night after the robbery [illegible] went to bed then and when witness got up as he was requested to wake him at [illegible] o'clock the next morning he was gone did not know what time he left

Here the court adjourned until [illegible] to-morrow

It is now [illegible] stand the heavy seas which she [illegible] cabin is roomy and comfortable [illegible] not compare very favorably with [illegible] Pacific, her predecessor [illegible] whose [illegible] insomuch as we can [illegible] far as [illegible] speed of the [illegible] cerned we can [illegible] clusion [illegible] 12 to 20 miles an hour. We presume [illegible] figures given are [illegible] nearly correct. The steamer is [illegible] the U. S. mails between this city and Victoria.

STILL EASTWARD.—Mr. Wetwilling, from Ogden, under date of the 18th, says: The Oregon [illegible] are still progressing well. The [illegible] All are jubilant, hopeful and happy. Variety is the spice of life. We have both. The sweet harmonious strains of the [illegible] frequently mingle with the [illegible] the juvenile members [illegible] The actual wants of [illegible] wants few. We [illegible] more from necessity than choice. We have confined the grand dining hotel [illegible] the sleeping car and passenger coach [illegible] Many are going West [illegible] many to Oregon. Agent of immigration is doing a good business in that line and still the people need more information.

FIRST PASSAGE.—This morning at three o'clock the steamer Ancon [illegible] will sail hence for San Francisco. She will carry hence the following passengers: J. Spencer, Miss A. Brock, M. DuBois, M. Amsa, J. A. Ammerman, [illegible] Ingal and two children, Mrs W. W. Freeman, Mrs G. W. Durbrow, D. Slaper, O. J. [illegible] Mrs. Barnhart, Mrs J. C. Henderson and child, Wm Hinton, Miss L. The water at [illegible] o'clock last night was twelve inches higher than the high water mark of [illegible] The Centennial [illegible] at [illegible] be put on the record.

A number of ladies residing in the northern portion of the city were to be seen yesterday afternoon patrolling the streets in their [illegible] to reach their homes.

Last evening while [illegible] First street [illegible] footing and took a [illegible] She swooned [illegible] and it was with extreme difficulty that she could be restored.

Some persons disposed to have [illegible] a monument of boxes and boards at the corner of Front and [illegible] streets, on which we noticed several signs [illegible] and a wreath on which hung a number of dead rats.

Capt. J. C. Ainsworth received the following telegram last evening from the Dalles: [illegible] Just returned from Celilo. Everything [illegible] there will be [illegible] most of the [illegible] and brush and [illegible] them. No report from [illegible] the morning at Celilo.

THE STAGE OF WATER.

[illegible] FOR THE WEEK ENDING [illegible]

The river has steadily risen since last Thursday. It is now about [illegible] or a little more, higher than the [illegible] and several inches higher than it was in 1862 when it was higher than at any previous time of which [illegible] kept. All the northern [illegible] city round Washington street and back from the river several blocks is under water. [illegible] submerged as far back as Sixth [illegible] Albina ferry boat lands [illegible] foot of Fourth street [illegible] Capt. G. H. Flanders [illegible] North of Washington street on Front and to [illegible] considerable extent on First business is suspended [illegible] most of the stores [illegible] covered with water. The amount of damage already caused is very considerable, but the full extent of it cannot be estimated until the subsidence of the flood. It is probable that the planking of many of the streets will have to be taken up and replaced and the Nicholson pavement on the northern part of Front and First will probably have to be relaid. [illegible] thousand dollars has been mentioned as the amount of damage already done, but that sum will hardly cover [illegible] At present the water is [illegible] It is thought the highest point has been reached and that the water will [illegible]

THE SEA-SIDE HOUSE,

CLATSOP BEACH,

IS NOW OPEN FOR THE RECEPTION OF VISITORS.

J. C. OLMSTED.

BAY VIEW HOUSE,

BAKER'S BAY, UNITY, W. T.

MR. DEXTER INFORMS THE PUBLIC that his House is now open for the reception of guests. Its advantages in every respect over any other summer Resort are too well known to Oregonians to repeat here. To strangers I will say that the place is in plain sight and across the Bay from Astoria, on the sheltered side of Cape Hancock, and very near and adjacent to the Fort and Lighthouse, on Baker's Bay, a beautiful sheet of water, unequaled for Sailing, Rowing, Fishing and Bathing. The dark forest with its picturesque drives, its mountain springs, profusion of wild berries, wild flowers and ferns, the horse trail to the Cape for Equestrians or walkers is one of the most delightful Panoramas to the eye ever witnessed. The cosy beaches, its caves, luxuriantly wooded Island, its views of Astoria, Chinook, Fort Stevens, moist old Tillamook, in the blue distance.

The courteous hospitality of the officers of the Garrison at the Fort, and also of Mr. Munson and family, of the Lighthouse, make that place well worthy of a visit.

The Salt Water Bathing in the bay within a few feet of the hotel, excels anything far or near, for warmth of the water and mildness of its waves, far preferable to the heavy surf and cold winds for women, children and invalids, while the sturdy swimmer or those who love the foaming surf, in a few minutes walk will find a beach unsurpassed in beauty, hard and level for one continuous drive of thirty miles. At this end are huge rocks stretching out into the ocean, from which fishers take from the sea Bass, Rockfish, Tom Cod, Porgies, etc., etc. Crabs, Clams, Oysters, &c., in abundance, (and the Table will never lack a sufficiency of those desirable adjuncts.) Boats upon the Bay, Saddle Ponies for the children, Teams to the Weather Beach, Croquet, Swings, Quoits, etc., FREE to Guests.

To those who would like to camp out, wood and water and use of ground free. Groceries, provisions, milk, eggs, butter, etc., for sale at a small profit. Campers can board at the Hotel if they prefer, at fair rates. A large Livery Stable, two new and fine Ten Pin Alleys, attached to the place.

Stage Office to Oysterville, Postoffice, Wells, Fargo & Co's office also there. No raw winds or damp fogs, and more beautiful tracks and shady groves cannot be found. The only regret the Landlord has, is that his house is not larger; but his grounds are large enough and beautiful enough to warrant next season a Hotel worthy of the surroundings.

VALUABLE LANDS FOR SALE.

600,000 Acres in

EASTERN OREGON!

For Farming and Grazing Purposes.

THESE LANDS ARE SITUATED IN WASCO, Grant and Baker counties, and are offered for sale in such sized tracts, not less than 160 acres, as purchasers may desire. Here is afforded a most favorable opportunity to immigrants and settlers seeking homes and low priced land to acquire both on the most reasonable terms. These lands are excellent for farming and grazing. On most of the tracts no grubbing, or other preparation of the land for plowing is requisite. A growth of nutritious grass covers the uplands affording the best of pasturage, while in the valleys and bottom lands the grass can be mowed and made into hay. Living springs and streams water the lands in various directions. The uplands, or rolling lands, can be put into crops with the most satisfactory return. Fruit, particularly peaches, plums, grapes, apples, pears and cherries, as well as the smaller fruits, can be grown in great abundance. The climate of Eastern Oregon is very healthful. Flourishing towns are located at convenient points for traffic, the mails are regularly conveyed throughout that section and a prosperous population is already established, occupied in farming, stock growing, mining, and various other pursuits.

Terms, $1 25 per acre and upwards, according to quality and quantity. Interest ten per cent. on deferred payments.

LAND FOR IMMIGRANTS.

Choice Farms for Sale.

4,000 ACRES, IN QUANTITIES TO SUIT PURCHASERS.

230 ACRES DUE SOUTH AND ADJOINING the Railroad Depot at Salem, all under cultivation, and suitable for grain or vegetables.

940 Acres, four miles southeast of Salem, on the railroad, with Mill creek running through it. This is the choicest farming land in Marion county, with fine springs, consisting in part of the old Rector donation claim, on which I raised the past year fifty bushels of wheat and three tons of timothy per acre. The first crop of oats ever raised on part of this land measured ninety four bushels per acre, grain weighed and ground chained by Mr. Alfred Stanton, of Salem.

2,700 Acres of prairie and light brush land, with timber for farming purposes, bounded by the Willamette River for four miles, beautiful lake on the east, boat landings all along the river, commencing four miles north of Salem—all choice grain land—the largest and most suitable body of land to be found in the Willamette Valley to be purchased by a colony. To be sold from $15 to $25 per acre. This land will all be immediately surveyed, and can be sold in larger or smaller parcels to suit purchasers. It can be subdivided to the best possible advantage, and I can offer any person or persons, or colony of persons, desiring to purchase homes in the best part of the Willamette Valley, near the city of Salem and within reach of the best social advantages, as well as most favorably located with respect to markets, greater advantages, on more favorable terms, than they can ever expect to realize again.

The Mulligan Letters.

The Times' Washington dispatch says that Judge ... has been subpoenaed by the judiciary ... to appear on Tuesday next, to testify in regard to the Mulligan letters. At his own request ... excused from coming to Washington, on a suggestion from him that he would answer in New York the interrogatories sent to him in writing and return sworn answers to the committee. The list of questions therefor has been sent to him to-day. It seems that Pierrepont called in as counsel Matt Carpenter and Jerry Black over the Mulligan letters, and it is alleged he refused to sign the opinion which the other eminent counsel gave to Blaine. The interrogatories are intended to discover whether the letters, as read in the House and given to the public, contained all that was really written in them, or whether certain parts have been suppressed. Pierrepont's testimony, if he answers the questions, cannot fail to be of considerable importance in this inquiry.

Morrill will not Accept the Secretaryship Unless the Appropriation Bills are Agreed on.

The Tribune's Washington special says that Morrill will not accept the Secretaryship till the appropriation bills are passed. According to law only ten days is allowed.

Both Houses will Harmonize.

There continues to be a better prospect as both Houses will harmonize their differences touching the appropriation bills.

U. S. Attorney for Delaware.

The President to-day sent to the Senate the name of George Fisher for U. S. attorney for Delaware. This is the same Judge Fisher who was district attorney for several years, and whose standing was not of the best. One of his assistants, while district attorney here, his own son, is now on trial for embezzling papers from the office and selling indictments to criminals, and another assistant, Richard Harrington, is now a fugitive from justice, hiding in foreign lands to escape trial on indictments for safe burglary and for bribery.

Regarding the recent appointment the Tribune says that Grant's capacity for mischief seems boundless. His party is just entering upon a campaign in which the utmost circumspection will be needed to make the public forgive the errors of the past few years, and the President chooses this critical time for sending to the Senate one of the most objectionable nominations he has made since he named Shepherd for commissioner of the District of Columbia. After reviewing the antecedents of Fisher, the paper concludes as follows: "If Grant will not think of Republican party interests, we hope the Republican party will," etc.

Senate Substitute for the House Silver Bill.

Washington, June 23.—The substitute reported from the Senate finance committee for the so called silver bill passed by the House on the 15th inst. consists of the first two sections of the finance committee bill and the last two of the House bill. In brief it provides for the coinage of silver dollars of 412 6-10 grains of standard silver, for issuing them as subsidiary coins in exchange for the annual amount of U. S. notes to be permanently retired. The silver bullion needed for this purpose is to be purchased in amounts not exceeding one million at one time and the trade dollar abolished.

Frauds in the Revenue Bureau.

Washington, June 23.—The House committee on invalid pensions began this morning the examination of the charges against ex commissioner Vanaernam. R. R. Travitt, chief clerk of the pension office during Vanaernam's commissionership testified he never knew or heard of any frauds while witness was in office. Baker succeeded Vanaernam as commissioner. Vanaernam read a statement setting forth that when he took charge of the pension office, VanMatter and Chauncey were attorneys for the administrators of very many of the claimants. He had no knowledge of fraudulent practices by them, but learned since these investigations began that there were irregularities. The efforts to connect witness with any frauds were unjust.

Concession to Von Arnim.

The Kammergericht has consented to permit Arnim to go to Carlsbad unmolested, and to send from there a physician's certificate of his inability to undergo imprisonment.

Blaine Still Ill.

Washington, June 23.—Blaine's condition is unimproved. He remained in bed during the most of the day. His physicians advise his early departure from the city, but it has not yet been decided that he is able to travel at present, or where it would be best for him to go.

Orth's Connection with the Venezuela Claims.

David M. Talmadge, American member of the Venezuela claims commission, gave testimony to-day. It will be remembered that Orth claimed to be employed by Talmadge when he got the bill passed to enforce the fraudulent claims of that commission against the protest of the Venezuela government. That government charged that Talmadge, Machada, the umpire, Stillwell, the American minister, and Murray, brother in law of Stillwell, formed a ring by which the awards were fraudulently increased, the members of the ring retaining the largest part of the certificates. It was not true that he employed Orth and gave him $7,000 for the certificates. He did pay Orth $250 for another purpose in April 1870. This was when Orth was a member of the House, and the money was paid for Orth's intercession in his favor before the foreign affairs committee, of which Orth himself was a member. Machada, whom he got appointed umpire of the commission, he admitted was his private business agent in Venezuela, and Talmadge admitted while the commission only awarded $190,000, Machado, his umpire, increased it to $800,000. The evidence heretofore adduced shows that this increase was made so that the ring should be able to divide the certificates between them. In relation to the charge that he (Talmadge) passed a large amount of the certificates awarded from the commission, Talmadge contradicts himself repeatedly, first denying that he had any, then admitting that he got them in various ways, all legitimate. His testimony also showed that Murray, who retained $2,000 of certificates out of the Briggs' award for alleged professional services rendered before the commission, never appeared before them at all. Talmadge's evidence showed that when he was appointed joint high commissioner on the part of the United States, to adjudicate the claims he was a manufacturer. Talmadge never studied law and was yet to adjudicate international claims. His examination will be continued to-morrow.

Talmadge Sued.

Washington, June 23.—To-day, Seth Briggs entered suit by his attorney, I. Packer Jordan, against David M. Talmadge, who was American commission on the United States and Venezuela mixed commission, to recover $150,000 damages, alleged to have been sustained by defendant refusing to deliver to him certificates amounting to $100,000 in one case and in another, $50,000 in payment of the claims of the plaintiff, adjudicated upon by the American and Venezuela mixed commission in 1866.

The President Visiting Harrisburg.

Washington, June 23.—The President accompanied by Senators Sherman and Cameron has gone to Harrisburg on a brief visit.

Resigned.

Judge Burdan, assistant secretary of the treasury, has resigned to take effect July 1st.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate.

Washington, June 23.—The second section which punishes by fine and imprisonment any person who may deny or abridge any citizen's right to vote by reason of race, color or previous condition of servitude, was first considered.

Thurman moved to strike out the word "persons" and insert "officer." A long debate ensued, and the motion was rejected—14 to 21—a strict party vote. Several other amendments were proposed but were all voted down by a party vote and at last the bill passed substantially without amendment—24 to 15.

The Senate insisted on its amendment to the Indian appropriation bill, and also on its amendments to the naval appropriation bill and agreed to the conference on those bills asked for by the House. Windom, Logan and Ransom were appointed on the former bill, and Sargent, Conigan and Withers on the latter. Adjourned.

House.

House met at 11 A. M. and immediately went into committee of the whole on the sundry civil appropriation bill. The question being on Piper's amendment increasing the appropriations for the appraiser's store at San Francisco from $40,000 to $100,000, it was rejected.

Luttrell moved to amend by increasing it to $70,000.

Piper moved to amend by increasing it to $90,000, and said his colleague Luttrell had been very offensive to him when he had offered an amendment to the navy appropriation bill in relation to Mare Island and he thought his colleague had much less right to interfere with a local affair pertaining to his (Piper's) district. He wanted an appropriation of $100,000 or he wanted no appropriation.

Luttrell said he had no desire to interfere with his colleagues, but had offered his amendment in good faith. No quorum having voted on Piper's amendment, a call of the committee was ordered and Piper's amendment was rejected 61 to 81. Luttrell then withdrew his amendment.

The next paragraph was the appropriation of $25,000 for contingencies in the State war and navy departments. Hurlbut moved to amend by increasing the appropriation to $75,000. Rejected. The committee then rose and at 11 5 the session of yesterday formally closed and at 12 M. the session of to-day commenced.

The House then called up the Idaho contested election case and the committee reported a unanimous resolution unseating T. W. Bennett the sitting delegate and declaring S. S. Fenn entitled to his seat. The resolution was agreed to and Fenn sworn in.

Harris reported a substitute resolution declaring Jos. H. Rainey sitting member entitled to his seat from the First District of South Carolina. Adopted. And also reported the case of H. B. Strait from the Second District of Minnesota. Adopted.

The House went into committee of the whole on the sundry civil appropriation bills. $50,000 was appropriated for repairs to ordnance and powder magazines at Norfolk and the Secretary of War was directed to vacate the magazine on Ellis Island, New York harbor and sell the property there. $50,000 was appropriated for the custom house at Port Huron. The appropriation for lighting the Ohio, Mississippi and Missouri rivers was raised from $120,000 to $150,000.

Monroe offered an amendment appropriating the unexpended balance for the expenses of the U. S. and Mexican claims commission and for a testimonial to the umpire, Sir Edward Thornton, who has refused to receive any salary for his services. Adopted. $5,000 were appropriated for completing military telegraph between the army posts on the Texas frontier. No other amendments were adopted up to the time of taking recess. The amendments as proposed by committee being regularly voted, the Senate amendments to the navy appropriation bill were non-concurred in, and a committee of conference ordered. Blount, Whitthorne and Hale appointed said committee.

At evening session the consideration of the civil appropriation bill was resumed.

On motion of Schleicher the item of $50,000 was inserted for the protection of the river banks of the Rio Grande at Brownsville, against the encroachments of the river.

On motion of Banning the item of Banning the item of $5,000 was inserted for Wheeler's geographical survey of territory west of the 100th meridian against the opposition of the appropriation committee.

On motion of Caldwell, an item of $11,000 was inserted for Prof. Jennings' survey of the Black Hills.

The next item was one of $300,000, for the survey of public lands. This item and the various amendments offered to it gave rise to a long discussion, in the course of which Conger told the Democratic side of the House that its stinginess in regard to public surveys was an act of political buncombe, and was told by Holman that as Conger had helped to vote away 200,000,000 acres of public lands to railroad corporations, it was not for him to lecture the Democratic side of the House as to its duty to actual settlers.

Randall stated the estimated price of the lands for surveys was $800,000, and the committee on appropriations had ascertained that $300,000 was sufficient, thus saving $500,000 which would have been wasted by the land office. All amendments rejected.

The committee rose and reported the bill to the House. All amendments on which separate votes were not asked were agreed to in bulk. The first amendment on which a separate vote was taken was that offered by Kasson to strike out the clause repealing the laws in relation to the registration of votes and the appointment of supervisors of elections and deputies, and special deputy marshals. The amendment was rejected 54 to 93. The amendment striking out the portion reducing the pay of printers at the government printing offices, and the amendment to have the public printing done under contract, were agreed to.

The amendment for the advance by the treasury of the money necessary to pay the interest on the 3 65 bonds was agreed to.

The next amendment, on which a separate vote was asked, was on the striking out of the bill the item of $25,000 for the detection and prosecution of crimes against the United States. The amendment was rejected, yeas, 73, nays 79, all the Republicans and many Democrats voting in the affirmative.

The amendment increasing the item for the Cincinnati postoffice from $250,000 to $300,000 was rejected. The next amendment on which a vote was taken, was the one increasing the appropriations for lights on the Mississippi, Ohio and Missouri rivers from $120,000 to $150,000. The vote was being taken at 2 o'clock, when our report closed with a prospect of the House continuing in session late enough to pass the bill.

Silver.

London, June 23.—The Times this morning says bar silver is very weak, some amount having sold for the continent at a price the only rate at which it can be sold. India is 10¼. Indian exchanges are reduced ⅛@¼ pence. We understand the Parliamentary committee of inquiry into the causes of depreciation of silver do not see their way to recommend the government to take any definite steps in the matter. The amount of bullion now in the Bank of England is the largest ever recorded, and the proportion of reserve to liability is the highest that it has been for years. The News and Standard mention silver transactions at 51¼.

Bank of England.

London, June 23, 3:30 P. M.—The amount of bullion gone in the Bank of England on balance to-day is £100,000. The rate of discount in open market for three months' bills is 1⅛@1¼ per cent; consols, 94 5-16 for money and account; C. S. 1040 bonds, 105¾; Erie, 12⅛; N. Y. Central 93.

Atrocities in Bulgaria.

London, June 23.—The Daily News publishes a letter from Constantinople, dated 16th, giving detailed atrocities committed in Bulgaria during the insurrection, and which still continue by Bashi Bazouks, "Turkish irregular troops." The writer says all the movable property has been plundered; houses and villages burned and old men, women and children indiscriminately slaughtered. It is estimated that the province which heretofore yielded to the government an annual revenue of £1,000,000, will not pay one quarter of that sum this year and for years to come. Various estimates place the number of lives sacrificed at from 18,000 to 30,000. The correspondent names 37 villages known to have been destroyed. Among the refugees the number of whom is very large, there is not a girl over 10 years of age. In the village of Perrushtitza in the district of Philippopolis, 1,500 persons are known to have been killed. This village consisted of 4,000 houses and was prosperous and peaceful. Every house has been burned and all the inhabitants killed, except a few women and children, who took refuge in Philippopolis and some women who were carried off by the Bashi Bazouks. These cruelties have made a great impression at Constantinople. The English Ambassador has intervened with the government to put an end to them.

Well-known Shipbuilder Dead.

Glasgow, June 23.—Robert Napier, the well known shipbuilder, is dead.

News from Greenland.

Copenhagen, June 23.—The government has received advices from Upernavik, the most northern Danish settlement in Greenland, to March 31st, which states that the winter there had been mild. No communication north of Melville Bay had been had since autumn, so there was no news from the British expedition under Capt. Nares.

Order for Mobilization of Troops.

London, June 23.—A dispatch from Vienna says that according to intelligence received from Belgrade an order for the mobilization of the first contingent of Servian militia has been issued, each brigade to assemble in its station to-morrow. Next week an order will issue for the mobilization of the second contingent, and at the last of that week the army is to take its relative positions on the frontiers. At the same time Prince Milan was to issue a manifesto to the people and proceed to the army. Any intention to attack the Turks is still disclaimed. These measures, if carried into effect, may be meant as a demonstration and pressure to promote diplomatic successes.

Liverpool Wheat Market.

Liverpool, June 23.—The leading grain circular issued this afternoon says: Under the influence of the finest weather, hot sunshine and seasonable showers the wheat trade generally has been dull and most of the markets either lower or tending towards a decline. In the meantime foreign supplies continue to arrive to a fair extent, though not liberally as heretofore, but with the small continental demand, amply sufficient for immediate wants. To-day's market is thinly attended and demands for wheat quite restricted, sellers being willing to accept a reduction of one penny from Tuesday's prices. Flour is dull. Good American is scarce maintaining full rates. Corn in fair request at a decline of 3d.

Bismarck Gone to the Spring.

London, June 23.—Bismarck has gone to Kissingen to drink the waters for chronic inflammation of the veins of the legs.

The Garrison of Constantinople Revolted.

London, June 23.—It is reported that the garrison of Constantinople has revolted. Several Circassians have been arrested on charges connected with the recent assassinations. The police have seized a quantity of arms and ammunition.

MEXICO.

Affairs in Mexico.

City of Mexico, June 9.—The military situation is unchanged. The pronunciados are said to have about 8,000 men badly armed and provisioned at Tlaxco and San Juan de los Lagos 15 leagues apart. Government General A. La Torre with ...000 well armed and equipped troops is at Apizaco, the junction of the Vera Cruz and Mexico and Puebla railroads, ready to march to the relief of either of those places of attack. Gen. A. La Torre expects reinforcements from Gen. Escobedo's command at Matamoros by way of Vera Cruz. After their arrival he will commence active and vigorous operations against the pronunciados with a part of his forces. This will probably give the death blow to the revolution. Diaz' whereabouts is unknown. ... 400 revolutionists attacked Escobedo ... but were repulsed with little loss to their side. On June 11th Gen. Cortina and Figuera at the head of a small force of pronunciados, were dispersed near ... by Lt. Vargas. Trains are running on the Vera Cruz and Mexico railroad. Cattle are dying in large numbers in Yucatan because of drouth.

An extraordinary account of a coal-oil accident is reported at Newport, Ky. A young lady dropped a lamp, which exploded and burnt her badly. The account says: "After Miss Jones' injuries had been dressed in oil and cotton and most of the persons had left, Mr. Ben Britton picked up what he supposed to be her gloves. As they were very stiff they were examined and found to be the skin of her hands and wrists with the nails, which she had rubbed off in her frantic attempts to quench the flames."

Lake—Official.

District Attorney—Watson, Rep., 112; Hanna, Dem., 250.

Joint Senator—Barnes, Ind., 129; Thompson, Dem., 213.

Representative—Applegate, Rep., 174; Cheesman, Dem., 202.

Commissioners—Teabrook, Rep., 219; Brown, Rep., 141; Moss, Dem., 215; Hopton, Dem., 170.

Sheriff—Beattain, Rep., 202; Hutson, Dem., 175.

Clerk—Charlton, Rep., 128; Hatton, Dem., 241.

Treasurer—Nurse, Rep., 129; Hawks, Dem., 201.

Assessor—Riggs, Rep., 210; Duncan, Dem., 165.

School Superintendent—Thatcher, Rep., 217; Fitzgerald, Dem., 156.

Surveyor—Hawley, Rep., 182; Cheesman, Dem., 191.

County Seat—Linkville, 87; Bullard's creek, 141; Bonanza, 18; Sprague river, 17; Drew's Valley, 3; Bullard's ranch, 40; Chewaucan, 1; Goose Lake, 17.

There is no such precinct as "Bonanza" in Lake county, but polls were opened there and returns made, and the correctness of the return is therefore, protested by one of the board of canvassers. The county seat is not permanently located, no one place having received a majority of all the votes cast, and the county seat will, therefore, remain at Linkville until the next general election.

OREGON.

A correspondent writing from Scio says: Since I wrote you last, this place and Scio have been connected by a telegraph line, which is now in fine running order. The prospect for an abundant harvest in this vicinity was never better than the present season. The late rain has done a vast amount of good to the late sown grain. The apple crop will be light this season, other fruits bid fair to be an average yield.

Officer John W. Minto, of Salem, arrested, Wednesday evening, a Swede named Bondanza, on the testimony of two parties who charged him with being a deserter from the United States army. He was placed in durance vile over night, and Gen. O. O. Howard, commander of the department, notified of his arrest, and further instructions solicited. Having no response from headquarters up to noon, the man was discharged from custody.

The Corvallis Gazette says: "Bridges in various parts of the county are in an exceedingly unsafe and dangerous condition, and should be looked after by the proper authorities before loss of property, and perhaps life, occurs. On last Friday, Mr. Simeon Bethers, of this county, had a narrow escape from death by the falling of a rickety bridge, a few miles southwest of this place, while crossing the same with a load of rails. It was almost miraculous that himself and team should have escaped without serious injuries. Mr. Wm. Creel, who fortunately happened to be near at the time the accident occurred, assisted him in escaping from his perilous position."

AN UNPARALLELED SUICIDE.

Lafayette, Ind., June 11.—James A. Moore, aged about 35, living on a farm near the Farmers' Institute, about 15 miles south of this city, committed suicide at the Lahr House in this city last night. He leaves a wife and three children. No cause is known for the deed. The manner in which it was accomplished is perhaps unparalleled in horrid ingenuity. He came to the Lahr House Saturday, said he was perfecting an invention, and would probably stay a week, but would visit his home Monday, and prepaid his bill till that time. He called at the machine shop of Harding & Sons, had a new large broad ax and two bars of 3-inch wide by 1 inch thick iron, 16 inches long, which he had riveted to the head of the ax. On either side, fastened to these bars in the shape of a handle to an ax, he had a system of wooden bars 8 feet long, the extreme end of which was fastened to a cross piece, secured to the floor by hinges. The ax was raised and held to its nearly perpendicular position by a double cord, fastened to the wall. Between the cords stood a candle, arranged so that when the candle burned down to the cords it would burn them off, and the ax fall. Where the ax would strike he placed a small box, open on one side, in which when found, was his head with some cotton, which had been chloroformed. His chin was held up from his neck by a stick run across the box, through holes on either side, holding his head firmly in position. He was strapped tightly to the floor with two straps, one around his legs, another about his arms and breast. The straps were both screwed to the floor, rendering it impossible to move. It is supposed that he set his ax, lit the candle, and strapped himself to the floor, put his head in the box with the chloroformed cotton, and was probably insensible when the ax fell. The ax and fixings would weigh about 50 pounds, and would fall a distance of from 10 to 15 feet. His head was completely severed from his body, and the ax buried in the boards beneath.

A LETTER FROM MICHIGAN.

Battle Creek, Michigan, June 7, 1876.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

The weather is quite warm. Wheat is looking very well at present. It had been dry for two weeks back, until a couple of days ago, when we had a smart shower. Grass, we were afraid, would be a very light crop; but the rains also helped it as well as the wheat and oats. There is a prospect for a good fruit crop this year unless fall frosts come on very early. There has been some fruit sent to the Centennial from here. The Red Canada, called here Canada red apples, have been sent and it is said they have taken the premium. Many new trees are being set out, as follows: Elm, plane or European buttonwood, linden, larch, and many others. Besides the above, many of our native trees are being set out. Potatoes are looking well at present, there are not many bugs yet, and we do not think that they will bother us much this season. New potatoes will be in the market by the 4th of July. Butter only brings 15 cents a pound. The Vibrator Threshing Machine Co. have sent one of their machines to the Centennial manufactured here by Nichol & Shepard. They advertised in your paper some time ago.

HENRY H. MAPES.

It is intimated that a law suit is likely to grow out of the disagreement among the Centennial exhibition managers as to the disposition of the money received from visitors. It is to be hoped that the matter will be settled without an appeal to the law. The New York Herald says:

"The report of a disagreement between the United States Centennial Commissioners and the Board of Finance is emphatically denied by the gentlemen interested. This is creditable to their desire to make the Exhibition a success, and to keep their disputes from the knowledge of the public. But no matter what Mr. John Welsh, Professor John L. Campbell, ex-Governor Bigler, General Hawley or Mr. Thomas Cochran may be pleased to say in extenuation of the matter, there is no doubt that there have been serious differences between the two boards both in regard to power and money. If there had been no trouble why were the questions submitted to the lawyers, why did the board of finance seek the advice of Mr. Charles O'Conor, Mr. Brewster, Mr. Hurst and others, and why did the commissioners on the other hand, ask the opinion of Judges Porter of New York, and Stanbery of Ohio. The fact is incontestable that a very bitter feeling existed for a long time and that it still exists, and that if the dispute has dwindled, it is because all the parties concerned have desired to avoid a gigantic scandal. For the sake of the Exhibition they have suppressed their quarrels, but they have not yet extinguished the cause."

Management of Savage Mining Co.

San Francisco, June 23.—The Chronicle this morning prints what purports to be an interview with Mr. Wallace, secretary of the Savage Mining Co., and Jim Keene, in which the latter is reported as saying that the mine has been dishonestly and extravagantly managed, and that the dissatisfied stockholders were getting hold of proxies and preparing to make a change in the management at the coming election. On the other hand, the secretary denies the reports of bad management, and says malcontents will be unable to obtain control of the mine.

Health Report.

The records of the Health office show that the city is at present exceptionally unhealthy. The deaths last week were 135, of which 71 were children under five years of age. This week up to last night, the mortality has been 122, of which 65 were under five years, with the prospect of reaching a higher figure than last week. The increase in the death rate is attributed to the warm weather recently prevailing and the liberal introduction of fresh fruit into the market.

Smallpox.

Eight cases of smallpox made their appearance Wednesday, seven Thursday, and four up to noon to-day,—one of which is a Chinaman, who has died of the disease. Three deaths have occurred at the smallpox hospital during this week. Most of the newly reported cases are of a mild type.

O'Leary Used Up.

O'Leary is apparently badly used up. He lies on his back at his hotel with his eyes sunken in his head and his feet looking, to use his trainer's expression, "like a three weeks old corpse." He has lost largely from a financial point of view by the late projects. The amateurs are nursing their blistered feet, and pondering over where their gate money is coming from after the expenses are paid.

Mike Reese Short of Cash.

San Francisco, June 23.—Mike Reese must be very hard up for ready cash. On his own statement before the board of equalization to-day, he swore that he had none; that his means were all locked up in real estate and that his bank account was overdrawn $700,000; that he was $2,000,000 in debt when the bank of California failed; that he owed that institution $800,000 at the time. Tax Collector Bradlum said he had examined Reese's book and and found he was handling a million a month and in placing an arbitrary assessment of half a million cash on him, he thought he was letting him off easy and concluded by saying to the board "You sustain it and I'll collect it."

Mint Affairs to be Investigated.

It is rumored that an investigation of the mint affairs is on the docket, but nothing definite is known about it.

Abandoned at Sea.

The British bark Great Republic arrived to-day from Liverpool, and reports that on the 28th of May, in latitude 11° 41' north, longitude 114° 21' west, the British bark Clarendon was boarded. She had been abandoned and was on fire. Nothing was left but a mere iron shell and some of the burning cargo. She appeared to have been coal laden. No signs of life was visible in the vicinity.

Jail Delivery.

Sacramento, June 23.—Gov. Irwin returned from Yosemite yesterday, and the certificates of discharge for thirty persons in the State prison, whose terms have either expired or who by good conduct have had their terms diminished, are being made out at the Governor's office.

Three Days' Holiday.

The banks and other principal business places in this city have decided to take three days holiday, from July 3d to 5th, inclusive.

NOTES AND QUERIES.

Hillsboro, June 16, 1876.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

How long did Adam and Eve inhabit the Garden of Eden previous to the fall? J. V.

Answer: This, and like questions, have very much attracted the attention of the learned, specially of late years. Some hold that the Mosaic account of the origin of man and the history of the antediluvian world, as contained in Genesis, is an allegory; others believe it to be literally true. Ethnologists have collected data, but have not yet been able to arrive at any satisfactory conclusion. Indeed, it is more than probable that no solution can be had. Enough can easily be found to serve as the foundation for almost any theory upon the subject, but not enough to determine anything.

EUGENE ITEMS.

Our correspondent at Eugene sends the following under date of June 22d.

A tax of six mills has been levied by the city authorities, to meet the expenses of the coming year.

The contract for repairing the east pier of the Springfield bridge has been let to A. S. Miller for $1 425.

The company of Grangers who propose soon to start a store here, have elected a board of directors and levied an assessment of twenty-five per cent.

A drummer from Portland, while walking around just outside of town saw some hop patches and remarked to a friend: "They raise the largest beans here that I ever saw in my life." That chap wasn't raised on a farm.

Rather a daring robbery was committed at Springfield last Saturday night. The store of A. G. Hovey was broken open and goods to the value of about $100 stolen. They also broke open the butcher shop and secured a good quantity of meat. Officers are on their track.

Robert Eakin, the defeated candidate for prosecuting attorney in the fifth district, not relishing defeat, came back to his old home and engaged in a canvass which has just closed successfully for him. I may not be amiss though in stating that it took one vote only to elect him.

Another instance, that establishes the fact that great men are as liable to err as lesser individuals has transpired. The city has heretofore paid the rent of the library rooms, amounting to $100 per year on condition that the council shall hold their meetings in the room and that it should be made a free reading room. They now, however, have been struck with a surprising streak of economy as they cut down the allowance for rent to $50, while they pay a night watch money for services that would have been performed by a responsible man for $200 less than they now pay.

WILLAMETTE BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.

28TH ANNUAL CONVENTION.

First Day.

Portland, June 23, 1876.

This body met at the Baptist Church, in this city, this morning at 10 o'clock. First listening to the "annual sermon" by Rev. Mark Bailey, Professor elect to the chair of mathematics in the State University. The speaker made an able argument in favor of higher Christian education, which he said consisted in drawing out all the powers. "All Christian education is but a development," and but opens the understanding to grapple with all truth. The great work of the church is to teach. All things are for Christians. All the giants are to become one with Christ, even to the measure of the statute of the fullness. All nations are to be taught and each disciple is to have all the gifts that are in him stirred up, as Paul commanded in Timothy. God says pastors according to his heart will feed his people with knowledge and understanding, and then Israel shall be multiplied and increased in the land and all nations shall be gathered to the name of the Lord. And the people who know their God shall be strong and do exploits. The nations thus doing are to be blessed above the hosts of nations.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS HAVE BEEN FOUNDED BY CHRISTIANS.

You have a member here (he is not in the room now) who has been for many years so absorbed in building up a good public school system that even now, though he can rest and look at the successful working of the system, he cannot forbear calling you to one side and telling what a grand good school they now have. And this is all right, etc., etc. He then referred to the study of the Bible and closed.

Rev. Addison Jones then said he would go home and study the Bible more, etc.

The body was then regularly organized by electing Rev. Mark Bailey as moderator, Clinton Latourette as clerk, Rev. E. Russ assistant clerk and Mr. D. D. Briggs as treasurer.

The body then listened to the reading of the church letter, and after the appointment of some committees, adjourned for dinner to the basement of the church.

Afternoon Session.

After a prayer meeting of one-half hour, led by Rev. J. G. Davenport, the business session commenced. C. E. Bryant was elected to report for the city papers, and at his suggestion Bros. J. E. Magers and —— Hacklemen were elected to prepare the reports for the evening papers. After the appointment of committees and the completion of other business the time for preaching having arrived, the body was addressed by Rev. Reese, of Eugene City, from John I., iii., 2.

The report of the committee on Home Missions and state of religion was then read by Rev. J. J. Clark, signed by Rev. J. Wickser. It referred to the fact that some young men at McMinnville were studying for the ministry. Recommended that a missionary be appointed to visit such places as Vancouver and Astoria. Bro. Dean objected to the report as not referring to the Chinese missions in Portland. The report was then referred back to the committee, and Bro. Dean, Rev. Dong Gong and Rev. D. J. Pierce added to the committee.

The question as to the life or death of the State Convention was then discussed by Rev. Sterling Hill and Rev. E. Russ.

PROGRAMME FOR SATURDAY.

9 A. M., devotional exercises, led by Rev. Sterling Hill; 10 A. M., sermon, Rev. J. B. Jones; 11 A. M., report of committee on Sabbath school work and publication society—Rev. J. C. Baker, S. S. Missionary of Pacific coast; 2 P. M., devotional exercises, led by Bro. C. E. Bryant; 2:30 P. M., report of committee on education, Rev. E. Russ, chairman; 3:30 P. M., report of Woman's Society of the Helping Hand, Mrs. D. J. Pierce, president; 4 P. M., report of committee on foreign missions, Rev. A. Jones, chairman; 4:30 P. M., report of committee on home missions; 6.30 P. M., report of committee on obituaries, and report of committee on resolutions—five minute speeches.

Rev. J. C. Baker will preach before the Association Sunday at 11 A. M., and Rev. J. T. Huff at 5½ P. M. Evening services will be omitted for want of gas.

THE BAPTIST CENTENNIAL SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Last Day—Evening Session.

From 7.30 to 8 P. M. devotional meeting led by Rev. J. G. Davenport, followed by Rev. A. J. Hunsaker on "Gathering up the fragments." The fragments to which he called attention were:

1. The key-note should be devotion.
2. Bible and not denominational schools. Teach the whole truth—the whole gospel.
3.—Carry the Bible into the families, i. e., the doctrines of the Bible. "And you shall tell it unto your children and your children's children after you.
4. Conversions in our schools largely dependent upon an earnest, persistent, prayerful effort of our teachers.
5. A Christian should not live in any community without working for Jesus.

The speaker called up many other incidents of the convention work in the half hour which was allotted to him.

This was followed by Rev. J. C. Richardson on "The food and what to do with it." He called attention to:

1. Jesus, the bread of life.
2. The Bible studied.
3. Early conversion.

He hoped that the truths to which the convention had been listening would be carried home and that this food would be given out to thousands who are starving for the bread of life.

The addresses were listened to with attention and profit to all.

On motion, the convention requested that the historical address, entitled "The Baptists and the Centennial," delivered on last evening by Rev. C. W. Rees, of Eugene City, be furnished to the Oregon papers and the Evangel for publication.

On motion, delegates were elected to the Willamette Baptist Association, to be held at Portland, June 23, 1876.

A collection was taken up to defray the expenses of the convention and the missionary work.

Mrs. Addie Mansfield, of Albany, offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted: "Resolved, That the thanks of this convention are due, and are hereby tendered to, the Baptist church and citizens of Salem for their kindness to us during this convention."

Rev. A. J. Hunsaker, of Albany, offered the following, which was also adopted: "Resolved, That the thanks of this convention are due, and hereby tendered to, Rev. J. C. Baker Sunday school missionary, for the interest that he has manifested in the welfare of this convention and in the Sunday school cause throughout the State."

The convention then adjourned to meet at Albany. Sang, "Praise God, from whom all blessings flow," etc. Benediction by conductor.

SATURDAY MORNING JUNE 24 1876

THE ST LOUIS CANDIDATES

The representatives of the great National Democratic party are flocking to St Louis from the North East and South and West to nominate the candidate who will meet Hayes and Wheeler will [illegible] November

Who these will be it is hard to say Tilden, Bayard, Hancock, Hendricks, Parker, Thurman and the venerable William Allen are aspirants Judge Davis once had a thought of allowing his name to be used but has since [illegible] a letter of it, and withdrawn himself from the [illegible] Thurman's chance vanished when his uncle William Allen loomed him a few weeks ago All a new [illegible] ghost of a chance for the nomination though his name may be seen on a few ballots

If reports at latest will prove reliable Tilden will [illegible] the [illegible] of such strength can't carry the full vote of his party in New York, he will probably be nominated The choice of a candidate at St Louis will rest with the Northern delegates The South has no candidates of her own to present and has declared her readiness to support the man who shall appear most likely to have the greatest popular strength in New York New Jersey, Connecticut Indiana and the Pacific States It will be difficult to find a man who has strength in New York and Indiana and Ohio both, for what is considered sound doctrine in one section is denounced as heresy in the other It seems an almost impossible task to devise a platform to suit both factions of the Democracy and to find a man a [illegible] enough to stand upon it without falling ignominously to the ground But that is their task not ours

When the convention meets, according to the best estimates, Tilden will have a considerable majority of the delegates Some putting the number of votes already pledged to him as about from 400 to 450 If the election were to be determined as was that in the Republican convention just adjourned Mr Tilden would be nominated on the first ballot but at St Louis the two thirds rule will prevail and Mr Tilden must obtain 491 votes to secure his nomination Whether he will be able to do this is doubtful The only votes really valuable to him are those of the delegates from the North If he can succeed in securing enough of them from the Democratic States to evince his ability to carry the full strength of his party, the Southern vote will at once be given to him If he should be strongly opposed by the Northern delegates the Southern vote will leave him and go to the man who shall appear more likely than he to carry the Northern States This man will probably be either Bayard Hendricks or Hancock—Bayard, perhaps, having the best chance of the three, and after him Hendricks Bayard's friends, indeed, claim that he is the most available candidate that can be presented They say he can get as large a vote in New York as Tilden, as large a vote in Pennsylvania as Hancock, as large a vote in Indiana as Hendricks and a larger vote in Connecticut and New Jersey than either of the other prominent candidates The South will be a unit in his support, and with unparalleled enthusiasm And similar claims are made for their favorites by the friends of each of the other candidates But we think it will not matter much who the St Louis nominees will be, as Hayes and Wheeler will be it the [illegible] to a moral certainty

THE CARE OF THE INDIANS

The Senate has amended the Indian appropriation bill by striking out the section transferring the control of the Indians from the Department of the Interior to the War Department Among the reasons given by the majority of the House in support of its action were that the change would lessen the cost of providing for the Indians as there were always soldiers needed, who could do the work of Indian agents without extra expense The following answer has been made to this

There is a mistaken impression in the public mind that wherever there is an Indian agency there is a military post, and vice versa and hence that the soldiers being on the ground could perform the agency duties as well as not There are seventy seven Indian agencies mostly on reservations and of these more than fifty are from twenty to two hundred miles distant from any post or military camp Twenty are from one hundred to two hundred or more miles distant and at least twelve from fifty to one hundred miles off In Oregon there are six agencies only one of which is near a military post and in Washington Territory there are eight agencies and two military posts only one of which is in the vicinity of the [illegible] From these facts it will be seen that the argument of economy based upon the supposition that the army is conveniently located for the management of the Indians is not sustained by the facts in the case Shall we remove the military posts and camps to the reservations or will you remove the Indians to the posts? The cost of either experiment would [illegible] the past expenses of the Indian [illegible] into insignificance before the [illegible] of the new regime It is [illegible] proposed to detach army officers from the posts to perform the duties of agent [illegible] any one acquainted with the nature of these duties must be aware that the [illegible] time for nothing else and if there are [illegible] superfluous officers of a proper rank who can be spared from the posts to perform them the army needs to be reduced [illegible] be economy The force [illegible] at an agency will be the same whether under an officer of the army or a civilian Teachers farmers blacksmiths millers and others are stipulated for [illegible] and neither officers or soldiers are fitted for such posts [illegible] at the military posts [illegible] builders [illegible] hay makers wood cutters &c. are civilian employes and it is [illegible] nonsense to say that the similar labor of the agencies could be done by the soldiers The question of direct economy resolves itself [illegible] that of the relative cost to [illegible] of a captain or an Indian [illegible] A [illegible] this indeed [illegible] the other aspects of the subject but [illegible] the army [illegible] duties [illegible] in favor of the transfer

Another reason urged by the advocates of the proposed change is that the [illegible] this Mr [illegible]

From the report of the board of Indian commissioners for [illegible] a few facts [illegible] at Toppenish [illegible] superintendency [illegible] two in charge of the Society of Friends here are 16,000 Indians [illegible] and parts of tribes Says the report

In 1868 these Indians had only five schools with 100 pupils and in 1875 there were fifteen schools with 550 pupils There were [illegible] Sabbath schools in 1875 there were fifteen In 1868 there were no houses reported as owned and occupied by them and in 1875 they owned and occupied 1 012 houses

In 1875 these Indians cultivated 14 400 acres of land raised 320 500 bushels of corn 28 032 bushels of wheat 29 102 bushels of potatoes, cut 4 096 tons of hay and their cattle had increased from 640 head in 1868 to [illegible] 80 in 1875 The Indians of the Northern superintendency numbering [illegible] 00 have advanced in a similar proportion they are also under the Society of Friends It [illegible] that the [illegible] of the Indian Territory [illegible] these figures Yakima Indians at [illegible] Washington Territory number [illegible] When the [illegible] wear a [illegible] skins and blankets Three fourths of their [illegible] the cost [illegible] of civilization have [illegible] and church buildings [illegible] acres of land [illegible] Methodist Church [illegible] have been taught to read and write and have some knowledge of arithmetic and geography These cases cited are not isolated cases they are fair examples of what the peace policy has effected in many other parts of the field The statistics of the [illegible] ful missions of the Presbyterian and Episcopal churches in Minnesota and Wisconsin [illegible] Nez Perces Western Shoshones Umatillas Warm Springs and other Indians on the Pacific slope would give similar confirmation of its success

The friends of the proposed transfer point to the Sioux outbreak as an evidence of the failure of this policy and insist strongly that the interests of the white settlers demand that the control of the Indians shall be placed in strong hands The army officers with few exceptions also hold this view

The Spanish Senate has at last practically abolished the fueros and the Basque provinces have now the option of quietly submitting or of appealing to force to maintain their asserted rights It seems impossible for the Spanish government to acknowledge the rights claimed by the Basque provinces for to do so would be to give them the power of annulling any law passed at Madrid The claim of the Basque provinces, though by no means exactly the same is similar to that asserted by South Carolina in Jackson's time

More horrifying accounts of cruelties inflicted upon Christians by the Turkish soldiers come to us It is time that these enormities should be stopped If the Porte has no power to do so then the Great Powers should [illegible] to restrain the Servian troops and should allow them to enter Turkey and rescue their unhappy neighbors from their oppressors

The President has nominated Geo P Fisher of Delaware to be U S District Attorney He could scarcely have made a worse nomination Mr Fisher is the father of Charles Fisher who has just been tried for stealing important documents from the District Attorney's office in Washington and selling them to parties interested

It seems that inadvertently we included the Occidental hotel among those mentioned as being flooded We are glad to correct the mistake The Occidental is above water and under the excellent management of its proprietors is likely to keep so both actually and figuratively

CITY.

QUARTZ MINE DISCOVERED.—The [illegible] A few days ago parties digging near Independence, found a quartz vein which is one [illegible] wide on the surface and at a depth of [illegible] to which a shaft has been sunk the [illegible] measures 2[illegible] inches. The ledge is well [illegible] and very rich. J H Fisk has assayed [illegible] of the quartz which shows a yield to the [illegible] of $931 70 gold and silver—mostly [illegible] silver. The mine belongs to Mr [illegible] who is having it opened and will [illegible] sunk to the depth of one hundred [illegible] to test the extent of the ledge.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

If there is one boast by the citizens of Portland above others, it is the success which has attended their efforts to make the public schools of the city all that was intended in [illegible] of our grand common school [illegible] A portion of the success which has [illegible] the work of making an ideal public [illegible] was shown by the exhibition given by [illegible] at the Central school building last [illegible] Notwithstanding the heavy rain, [illegible] attendance was very large and the spacious hall was packed to its full extent by the [illegible] patrons and friends of the school [illegible] which were interesting, through-[illegible] opened by a song in which the [illegible] school joined. Miss Carrie Dalton read [illegible] an extract entitled Inchcape [illegible] an essay entitled The Aspirations [illegible] Miss Sarah Ritchey," showed careful [illegible] a good command of words [illegible] y on Church and State, [illegible] Hamilton Brooke's [illegible] Bernardo Del Carpio ' showed [illegible] good elocutionary powers [illegible] Tilton and reading by [illegible] well received 'A Hundred [illegible] by Lena Morgan and Lillie Bray, [illegible] Essay, 'Power,' and Lennie [illegible] declamation the Nova Scotian [illegible] recitation, the Gray Forest [illegible] among the best things of the [illegible] because of Watching a Teakettle [illegible] Gray, was well written and well [illegible] Ball made a good argument in [illegible] Modern Art Science and Literature as [illegible] of the former age Miss Mary [illegible] "Charlie Ross" and was loudly [illegible] Moral Courage, an essay by [illegible] Miller was good for one of his years [illegible] comic in character, entitled Pop [illegible] Question, by Miss Louisa Aldrich [illegible] with considerable applause. Wm [illegible] presented good reasons to object to [illegible] more Chinese in this country but one [illegible] best things of the evening came in here [illegible] by Misses Burk Kellogg Morgan [illegible] each showing rare elocution [illegible] A very fine piece of instrumental [illegible] Marche des Tambours was well ex[illegible] by Misses Dwyer and Shelby. Rienzi's [illegible] to the Romans was a very large [illegible] for a small boy but he got [illegible] in good shape. W S Dunn[illegible] essay on the Status of the United [illegible] showed a good knowledge of the political condition of this country, and it would [illegible] well to some of the journals of the day [illegible] editorial. No Sects in Heaven was re-[illegible] Miss Camilla Coburn who did this [illegible] production full justice. Herman [illegible] showed that he made progress and [illegible] on that subject was very good. Rana [illegible] gave one of the best recitations of the [illegible] An Order for a Picture, her voice be[illegible] modulated and her manner of deliv[illegible] pleasing. The Valedictory, by Miss [illegible] ker, was in keeping with the high [illegible] other exercises of the evening [illegible] reflected credit on herself [illegible] were closed with a brief ap-[illegible] address to the graduating class by [illegible] Atkinson. The graduates were [illegible] Amber being Misses Georgia [illegible] Ritchey and Clara Olds, and W S [illegible] Herman Gladden, Franklin Miller [illegible] Clifton Wass, Josiah Tilton [illegible] and R. A. Ball. [illegible] Quartette favored the audience [illegible] choice musical selections, and [illegible] the entire exhibition was one which [illegible] upon the superintendents di[illegible] teachers and pupils, and justly in [illegible] pride which all present feel in the [illegible] of the public schools of Portland

WATER NOTES

The Wallamet was rising last night

The busiest place in town is [illegible] dock

There is a prospect of the water [illegible] being raised soon

Dead fish are floating through Front and First streets

No gas and tallow dips in demand [illegible] kerosene

Dead rodents are seen [illegible] steering upward with the flood

The reports from the upper Columbia are more favorable

Most of the stores on [illegible] closed at 8 o'clock

The [illegible] railroad company

An enterprising grocer [illegible] delivers goods in a skiff

At 1[illegible] o'clock last night [illegible] was [illegible] higher than the highest [illegible]

The [illegible] always along [illegible] being improved. Quite sensible

The St Charles and Occidental hotels are free from the flood and easy [illegible]

Adam Staender [illegible] free baths to the public in general since the water rose up stairs

No trouble now to water our drinks How ever everybody insists upon straights?

[illegible] has been [illegible] particularly so among [illegible] flooded merchants

Jo Buchtel took a photo of the flood looking north from the American Exchange It can be seen at Ike Blum's

The [illegible] at [illegible] and Stark streets the streets north of that point being considered impassable for trains

River rose at this point yesterday from [illegible] M to [illegible] P M about [illegible] inches. The rise from [illegible] P M was owing to the [illegible] tide

Manciet's restaurant was closed owing to the high water in the kitchen. The boarders at the Clarendon dine on the second floor

The fine gardens in the north end have been destroyed and the residents in many places have removed temporarily to dryer quarters

Keep your feet warm and your head cool is a good old adage but it won't work worth a cent now. Hot heads and wet feet are in order

Playing under difficulties yesterday we saw three gentlemen seated on a platform made of tables and were manipulating spotted pasteboard lively. How high is that?

The Kalama boat passed a log cabin yesterday floating serenely down on the current also a portion of the railroad trestlework which evidently came from above the Cascades

Things are lively nowadays at Pacific dock. The eastside railroad and all the principal steamboats receive and discharge their freights and passengers at this wharf

At the residence of a family down the Columbia the fish are swimming under the kitchen stove and entertain the family while they take their meals. Steamboats cross lots at their place

Placards can be seen conspicuously displayed about the streets along the temporary footways laid for pedestrians to this effect "The public is cautioned not to go faster than a walk over this bridge" or "A fine of one drink will be imposed on any person running over this trestle work"

Last evening, to our dismay and great discomfiture the water began to rise rapidly here. On no other theory can this rise be accounted for but the recent rain which has caused the upper Willamet to send down her watery stores—just as if we didn't have already enough more than we can conveniently drink. We will endeavor to keep our feet dry and like the good old lady "Trust in Providence"

MAIL ROBBERY CASE.

TRIAL IN THE U S CIRCUIT COURT OF MILTON SHEPARDSON FOR [illegible] THE MAIL

Fourth Day.

Promptly at 9 o'clock the court convened. Mr H [illegible] Thompson asked for an attachment in the case of Mr Schutz one of the witnesses for the defense who had been summoned and had failed to make his appearance [illegible] showing of the subpena [illegible]

The testimony of Mr [illegible] was [illegible] robbery [illegible] I had [illegible] next morning about [illegible] o'clock [illegible] that I [illegible] which I had [illegible] to his house after the robbery [illegible] examined it carefully [illegible] I first saw the boots at my house they were in the possession of Attleberry and my son. Attleberry came [illegible] of the boots [illegible] information which he had obtained. The boots were taken and compared with the tracks [illegible] leading from the spot where [illegible] and [illegible] perfectly agreed with impressions made [illegible] in what manner they on the track were compared. He was also shown a shoe which was identified as the one taken from Hanson at the time he arrest[illegible] was made [illegible] that the robbery was committed. I was informed [illegible] Wiggs and Bramlette also lived at Tompkins at the same time [illegible] not know [illegible] knowledge. When I saw Hanson [illegible] before the robbery he was at Tompkins house. Hanson was at Tompkins house [illegible] him [illegible] was the Friday following the robbery. I think [illegible] positive however. I was present when the shoe was compared with the tracks [illegible] present by request of Hanson himself. Mr Durbin compared the shoes with the tracks others were present when the comparison was made [illegible] Durbin and myself [illegible] now remember particularly who. [Witness was shown a horse shoe and asked to identify it] It looks very much like a horse shoe I have seen before at Tompkins when I was there in company with Humason Deputy Marshal Williams and others. When I first saw the shoe it was taken from a horse by order of Sheriff Schutz that was in a corral at Tompkins house. I do not know who was the owner of the horse the animal looked very much like an Indian horse do not remember who was present when the horse shoe was compared with the tracks. I have had a good deal of experience in tracking horses cattle and persons [illegible] am over [illegible] years of age and have lived a greater part of my life on the frontier. During my younger days hunted a good deal. From 1864 to 1[illegible] I have resided in Antelope valley have had considerable trouble with the Indians in driving off stock and much experience in tracking them

One of the tracks seen after the robbery was a large round one remember that fact but could not minutely describe it. Tompkins had a large bay mare which made a large round track similar to the one I saw. It is my opinion that the track found very closely resembled that made by Tompkins mare and might have been made by that animal. At the time the shoe and track were compared it was my opinion that the track had been made by Tompkins mare. There was a horse which ranged in the vicinity of Antelope valley belonging to Tompkins that made a long slim track similar to a mule and which might have been taken for a mule's track. It was my opinion at the time [illegible] that the [illegible] track was made by Tompkins horse. I am of that opinion still. It is my opinion that the persons who robbed the stage and who made the tracks leading from where the robbery took place to where the horses were tied and from where the animals were tied to where they intersected the Canyon City road, were well acquainted with the general lay of the country. I came to that conclusion from the route taken by them. I have not had occasion to change my mind yet on the subject. From the scene of the robbery to where the Canyon City road was intersected they had apparently selected the most rugged and impassable route possible

Cross examination—I went Sunday morning following the robbery to look for tracks did not go Saturday. I first went in an easterly direction because I had heard that two men had been that way just prior to the robbery. I saw Sheriff Schutz Monday morning after the robbery and we went to look for tracks. Found the foot tracks in about three quarters of a mile from where the stage was stopped.

At a point where distinct tracks were found, the ground was dry and sparsely covered with bunch grass, it grew thinly and here and there the earth was entirely bare. The ground was quite solid—so [illegible] but sufficiently firm to retain a perfect impression of either a person's or horse's foot and to be plainly seen. The soil was of a red nature and yielding enough to allow the heel and sole to sink in deep. We did not examine the tracks very closely did not measure them could not state [illegible] [illegible] I was to them. When I went back to same place several days later found our own tracks they could be seen plainly. We followed the first day the tracks from where the stage was robbed to where the horses were tied and about half a mile beyond. Only three tracks could be seen then. Tuesday following the robbery Attleberry and Cunningham went with us. We did not have the horse shoe with us then and did not measure the tracks. The soil was of a character to receive and retain the full impression of the [illegible] distinctly see the prints of the nail heads of the boots and shoes did not count the nail heads. My object in examining tracks first time was not for purpose of finding robber but to discover the mail sacks. It was perhaps one half mile from the point where distinct tracks were first discovered to where the boot was compared with the print. cannot tell how many tracks were measured at that time. The boot was compared with the tracks immediately after it was brought to my house. I think [illegible] might have been several days; am not very positive. I may have said during Tompkins trial that the first time or place I saw the boots was in the loft of Tompkins' house there were a number of old boots and shoes in the loft when we were up. I may have seen the boots there then, and when I saw them at my house recognized the same ones. I was at Tompkins house in company with Humason and Sheriff Schutz after the grand jury had been in session in Tompkins case. I do not know that the others took anything away then. There was no one at Tompkins house at the time. Soon after the boots were brought to my house the comparison was made, the distance was 10 feet or more at the point where the boots [illegible] were compared. Am very positive that more than one track was measured. I did not [illegible] any other track at the place where Adams made comparison between the boots and print. We did not go to the same place the second time [illegible] [illegible] long [illegible] track was made by a mule. [illegible] after measuring it carefully became convinced that it was made by [illegible] do not know that any of Maupin's [illegible] ever traveled in that part of the country where the stage was robbed. Horses [illegible] ranged 20 [illegible] from home, cattle often strayed a long distance from accustomed range by being driven from one neighborhood to another. In searching for tracks, found a number after leaving Antelope valley. [illegible] loose horses and had [illegible] difficulty in following up the trail we were [illegible] tracks of cattle or horses would be [illegible] for a long time in the soil [illegible] lose their shape [illegible] a month perhaps [illegible] In that region the wind blows [illegible] at times [illegible] the tracks by filling them up [illegible] but the difference between a [illegible] track [illegible] However this would [illegible]

[illegible] expressed [illegible] of [illegible]

I would shoot him as soon as I got him out of the crowd. I arrested Hanson when he was standing at the front gate of Tompkins house, and while he was conversing with us. Attleberry told him to throw up his hands. I did not say to Hanson while he was on the way from the place of arrest to my house that I was afraid that Tompkins would get to the Dalles before I could and turn State's evidence that if he (Hanson) would confess the robbery I would travel day and night to reach the Dalles before Tompkins. I did tell Hanson that I would do everything in my power to [illegible] him to confess the crime. Have no recollection of telling Hanson to drop behind with me while on the road from where he was arrested to my house. I did not say to Hanson when we had dropped behind the others "Well Hanson the reason I asked you to drop behind is because you can dodge out here, and you shall not be followed. I have no money now but I have horses which will bring money." I never made such a proposition. Hanson never said to me that he [illegible] I did not say to him "Well you will go in [illegible] will be hanging, and I will push it to the end." [illegible] [illegible] Tompkins [illegible] his [illegible] and his [illegible] will never [illegible] his widow any good." [illegible] did not say to Hanson at Tompkins house at the time of his arrest that one of the tracks was made by a No [illegible] shoe and [illegible] Hanson's shoes [illegible] track which was made by one of the robbers. I have taken no interest in the defense of Shepardson. [illegible] was written to by Gov Gibbs who asked him where all the old witnesses could be found. I have talked about employing counsel for defense in this wise. Mr Peterson a large stock raiser who lives on John Day river came to my house some time ago and said there was a great deal of prejudice in Portland against the [illegible] that it was scarcely safe for me to go down there; that [illegible] Mallory had employed the best lawyers [illegible] to prosecute Shepardson. [illegible] might take [illegible] employ [illegible] at Gibbs (sug[illegible]) [illegible] the neighbors ought to throw in and raise a purse to pay for a lawyer that he was willing to throw in $20 for that purpose. I told him I would also contribute [illegible] That was all that was said. He went on home and I have not seen him since

Re direct—I have never employed any counsel for defendant am under no obligations whatever to defendant have no pecuniary connection with the defense or the counsel employed. [illegible] at the time Hanson was arrested in the capacity of deputy sheriff of Wasco county and could not state how long prior to the robbery I was on bad terms with Tompkins

Court then took a recess until [illegible]

Afternoon

The re direct examination of H Maupin was resumed. He stated that he could refresh his memory as to the time when all feeling arose between himself and Tompkins by reference to the death of young Mount but could not tell within six months of the date

Re cross examined—Did not say to John W White one of the parties arrested at Tompkins house "I am sorry for Hanson, but as for that d—d s—n of a b—h Tompkins if he had his deserts he would be hung and that he had [illegible] got the drop on Tompkins and his time is short" or words to that effect. Did [illegible] say to [illegible] B Odeneal in August 1872 "I will follow Tompkins to the bitter end he is guilty of this stage robbery and I will send him up if I can" or words to that effect

C [illegible] THORNBURY

Was recalled and stated that the two men which he saw in the vicinity of Antelope Canyon on the day of the robbery were on the right hand side of the road going from Canyon City to the Dalles

JOHN DURBIN

Was called and sworn. He lived in Salem but was in Antelope valley in July 1872 thinks he saw Ed Hanson at Maupin's, it was Bramlette instead of Hanson he was in Adams custody. Had a conversation with him at that time [this was two or three days after the robbery] [a shoe was shown witness] saw one much like it believes it is the same shoe at Maupin's house, went from Maupin's up the valley to a spring branch saw there where there had been a fire then went across the creek and struck a trail followed it about 100 yards came to a place where were found a good many horse and man tracks took a horse track and followed it about 20 steps to a spot where the ground was kind of chalky. Had a shoe which was got of sheriff Schutz in Bramlette's presence at Maupin's. Measured the men's track by putting the toe of the shoe in the toe of the track, became satisfied that that shoe made that track. Left that place and went to where some horses had been standing. There was no place there to hitch horses to not even a sage brush. Went to the spring where the tracks were found in pursuance of information received from Bramlette

Cross examined—Gilliam, Attleberry and Maupin went with witness to the spring. Sheriff Schutz did not go, Schutz gave witness the shoe did not know where Schutz got it first saw it with Schutz. Know the country about there [illegible] was not shown the way to the spring [A pair of boots was shown the witness] Did not see the boots was not in company with Mr Adams when he compared the boots with the tracks

F M GILLIAM

Resided near John Day's river in June and July 1872 was near Antelope canyon in July, have seen Bramlette, saw him at Maupin's a short time after the robbery. Durbin, Bramlette and Mrs Maupin were there, went from there to the spring referred to by other witnesses and measured the tracks in company with Maupin Durbin and Attleberry [Shoe shown to witness] This looks like the same shoe made the comparison by putting the shoe in the track the shoe and tracks were of the same length and breadth thinks he noticed the impressions in the tracks made by the tacks in the shoe but could not tell as to how they compared with the tacks in the shoes. After measuring, the tracks went back to Maupin's in company with Durbin and the rest

Cross examined—Believes Maupin first showed the tracks did not examine all the tracks, with great care did not go where the horses were tied could not say whether the tracks examined were beyond the spring from Maupin's house or between the spring and the house. Can't say that any one showed the way to the spring all came up to it together went there at suggestion of Sheriff Schutz and also at Hanson's. Nobody [illegible] fired to have Hanson go, Hanson did not go

[illegible] CANTRELL

Was sworn and testified substantially as follows. In 1872 resided in Antelope valley and am acquainted with the canyon and vicinity. Know Tompkins am not with Hanson or White but am with Bramlette. I know the place where the stage is said to have been robbed. Examined the tracks from that place. On the first examination we commenced about a half mile from where the horses had been kept found tracks of four horses. This was on the next Monday after the robbery. We followed the tracks to where they came into the Canyon City road there was one small track one a little larger and one still larger than average. They came down a point to the Canyon City road. I was not present when the boot tracks were examined

On cross examination witness said. I am not sure about the shoes being the same. Think they are. Could not swear positively that I saw the shoes at the time of the trial of Tompkins

W [illegible]

Resides on John Day's river 10 miles from Canyon City. Knew Bramlette [illegible] him [illegible] two or three weeks before the stage robbery, he was a small, dark, rangey horse [illegible] put the shoes on him at the [illegible] sale was made. Saw the horse afterward after the robbery. Saw him on the road near [illegible] [illegible] named Han[illegible]

J M MURRAY

[illegible] Antelope valley [illegible] Cherry [illegible] Tompkins [illegible] twenty miles from Antelope canyon [illegible]

[illegible] Have seen the boots

was present when they were compared with the tracks. Mr Adams compared them by measuring the soles and taps of the boots with a straw and then measuring the tracks

Cross examined—First heard of the robbery on the Sunday after, went to the ground two or three weeks after, was there but once; noticed but one peculiar track. There were other tracks near that appeared to have been freshly made. The soil where the tracks were was ashy [illegible] rather loose on the surface [illegible] soil of that kind a little dust might fall in to the tracks and disfigure them a little. The tracks appeared to have received the full impression of the boot or shoe and the bottoms of the tracks were [illegible] there [illegible] the heel of the track. Altogether [illegible] three or four tracks [illegible] all were ten or fifteen feet of that place. Don't know when the Tompkins trial in Portland came off [illegible] before the trial the tracks were measured it was two or three weeks after the robbery and but a short time before the trial. Probably the tracks were measured near a week before the trial

Re direct—There was very little dust in the tracks not enough to obscure them

[illegible]

Resided at The Dalles in June and July 1872 was in Antelope canyon three days after the robbery went from The Dalles in company with Sheriff Schutz procured horses at Maupin's and in company with Maupin Attleberry Cantrell and Schutz went to hunt for the mail sacks. Went on top of the mountain opposite where the robbery occurred then went down into the second canyon then on the hill to the right, on the top of this hill commenced to search for the trail saw Maupin pointing out the track of a man's shoe with a wide sole [illegible] track [illegible] got near the spring one fourth or half mile from the hill was looking close at the tracks and the other parties got about 10 minutes ahead and arrived at the spring. On reaching the spring witness saw a pistol in Cantrell's hand which he had picked up [a pistol was shown to witness] believes it is the same pistol some portion of it was wet when Cantrell picked it up there had been a fire there 8 or ten feet from the spring. The spring was about half a mile from the place of the robbery saw no shoe. Durbin was not along don't know Durbin. Saw no tracks about the spring noticed nothing peculiar about tracks when the trail was first struck except the one made with the broad shoe saw that track going from a quarter of a mile toward the Dalles, could not say what the character of the ground is at that place

On redirect examination the witness stated that he went to look particularly for the mail sacks

ALFRED SUTTON

Resided on Bridge creek Wasco county in 1872 [illegible] miles northwest from the place of the stage robbery. Learned of the robbery five or six days after it occurred on the return trip of the stage examined the way sack as the stage came down on the trip upon which it was robbed and found it all right. Know Hanson always called him Nate Hanson he had a white-handled pistol with a little piece of silver on the handle with his name on it saw his brother have it at Camp Watson after the robbery saw it at different times before at his (witness') house. Hanson resided with witness in 1868 not positive that he had the pistol then; saw it just before the time at Camp Watson, in Hanson's possession when he started to Tompkins' to work, in the spring of 1872. was a witness in the Tompkins trial, but did not testify about the pistol because no questions were asked concerning it. Has spoke about it to Hanson's brother have spoken to Maupin and perhaps several others about it. Don't know that the pistol had a piece broken off of the handle. Don't know that Hanson's pistol was a yellow bone handled pistol think it was a white handled pistol

AD EDGAR

Was again called and asked concerning certain letters which he had been subpenaed to produce, and which he said he had written and telegraphed for, but they had not been yet received from The Dalles

DAN KINNEY

Resides on the Malheur Indian reservation, but was at Colman's place, in Wasco county in July, 1872 know Bramlette, saw him the Saturday after the robbery at Colman's he had a white handled pistol, Bramlette was riding a small iron grey horse

Cross examined—Bramlette was arrested at Colman's no pistol was taken from his person at the time he was arrested, don't know what did become of his pistol

DOCUMENTARY EVIDENCE.

Defendant's counsel then introduced as testimony the judgment roll in the case of the United States vs Frank Tompkins Wm. Bramlette Ed. Hanson and Wm. Durbin, alias John W. White. No objection was interposed, and the document was considered as read

WM HARPER

Who was deputy sheriff of Baker county in 1873 testified that he arrested Shepardson September [illegible] that year and took him to Shasta, California, in irons, that he traveled on the boats by car and by stage that J C Moreland of counsel for prosecution was a passenger on the stage from Roseburg to Shasta while defendant was being taken down there

Cross examined—Saw Shepardson in the following November at The Dalles and at Baker City he was not in custody then

Re direct—Took Shepardson through Portland when he was being taken to California

S A MORELAND

Was present at the trial of Tompkins et al in this court in August 1872 and took notes of the testimony and proceedings in the case. These notes were written out and published in the OREGONIAN. Heard the testimony of John Attleberry a witness in that case

Attleberry being dead counsel for defendant sought by this witness to prove what his Attleberry's testimony was. Counsel for the Government objected and after counsel's arguments were heard, the court took the matter under advisement

JOHN DURBIN—RECALLED.

Question—State whether or not you saw Bramlette after the robbery. Answer—I saw him at Mr Maupin's two or three days after the robbery

Q—Did you have any conversation with him at that time? A—I did

Q—What was that conversation? Objected to by counsel for the Government. The question of the admissibility of Bramlette's statements in the matter was argued at length by counsel and taken under advisement by the court, which thereupon adjourned until 9 o'clock A M to-morrow.

WHEN THE COWS COME HOME

When klingle klingle klingle
Way down the dusky [illegible]
The cows [illegible]
[illegible]
The airy [illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]

[illegible]

(And others [illegible] years
[illegible]
[illegible]
When the cows came home)

With [illegible]
With [illegible] and [illegible]
The cows are coming home
[illegible]
And the summer sun a slipping down
And the maple in the hazel glade
Throws down the path a longer shade
And the hills are growing brown
[illegible] tingle,
By threes and fours and single,
The cows come slowly home
(The same [illegible] and [illegible] psalm
The same sweet June day rest and calm
The same sweet smell [illegible]
When the cows come home)

With tinkle tankle tinkle
Through fern and periwinkle
The cows are coming home
A loitering in the checkered stream,
Where the sun [illegible] glance and gleam
Clarine Peachbloom and Phœbe Phillis
Stand knee deep in the creamy lilies,
In a drowsy dream
To link to lank to link lank
[illegible]
(And up the [illegible]
Come the [illegible] old time been
And the cross [illegible] Queen
When the cows came home)

With klingle, klangle, klingle
With loo oo and moo oo and jingle
The cows are coming home,
And over there on Merlin Hill
Hear the plaintive cry of the whip poor will
And the [illegible] on the tangled vine
over the poplars [illegible]
And [illegible] the silent hill
[illegible] kolingle lingle,
[illegible] jingle,
[illegible]
(Let down the bars let in the train
[illegible] and fun
[illegible] times come back again
When the cows come home)

A STORY OF THE REVOLUTION

In the shadows of the Wassahikon woods not more than half a mile from the Schuylkill there stood in the time of the revolution a quaint old fabric built of mingled logs and stone and encircled by a palisaded wall It had been erected in the earlier days of Wm Penn, as a block house, intended for defense against the Indians

And now it stood with its many roofs its numerous chimneys its massive square windows, its varied front of logs and stone its encircling wall through which admittance was gained by a large and stoutly built gate it stood in the midst of the wood, with trees enclosing its veteran outline on every side

From its western window you might obtain a glimpse of the Schuylkill waves, while a large casement in the southern front commanded a view of the winding road as it sunk out of view under the shade of thickly clustered boughs into a deep hollow not more than one hundred yards from the mansion

Here from the southern casement, on one of those balmy summer days which look in upon the dreary autumn toward the close of November a farmer's daughter was gazing with dilating eyes and half clasped hands

Well might she gaze earnestly to the south and listen with painful intensity for the slightest sound! Her brothers were away with the army of Washington and her father a grim old veteran—he stood six feet and three inches in his stockings—who had manifested his love for the red coat invaders in many a desperate contest had that morning left her alone in that small chamber in charge of some ammunition intended for a band of brave farmers about to join the hosts of freedom. Even as she stood there gazing out of the southern window, a faint glimpse of sunlight from the faded leaves above pouring over her mild face shaded by clustering brown hair there not ten paces from her side were seven loaded rifles and a keg of powder

Leaning from the casement she listened with every nerve quivering with suspense to the shouts of combatants the hurried tread of armed men echoing from the south

Suddenly the shouts grew nearer and then emerging from the deep hollow, there came an old man, running at full speed yet every few paces turning round to fire the rifle which he loaded as he ran He was pursued by a party of ten or more British soldiers who came rushing on their bayonets fixed as if to strike their victim down ere he advanced ten paces nearer the house

On and on the old man came while his daughter quivering with suspense, hung leaning from the window he reaches the blockhouse gate—look! He is surrounded, their muskets are leveled at his head he is down, down at their feet grappling for his life! But look again! He dashes his foes aside, with one bold movement he springs through the gate, an instant and it is locked the British soldiers mad with rage, gaze upon the high wall of logs and stone, and vent their anger in drunken curses

Now look to yonder window Where the young girl stood a moment ago quivering with suspense, as she beheld her father struggling for his life now stands that old man himself his brow bared, his arm grasping the rifle while his gray hairs wave back from his wrinkled and blood dabbled face! That was a fine picture of an old veteran nerved for his last fight a stout warrior preparing for his death struggle

Death struggle? Yes! for the old man Isaac Wampole had dealt too many hard blows among the British soldiers, tricked cheated them too often to escape now! A few moments longer and they would be reinforced by a strong party of refugees the powder the arms in the old block house perhaps that daughter herself was to be their reward There was scarcely a hope for the old man and yet he had determined to make a desperate fight

"We must bluff off these rascals" he said with a grim smile turning to his child "Now Bess my girl when I fire this rifle do you hand me another and so on, until the whole eight shots are fired That will keep them on the other side of the wall for a few moments at least and then we will have to trust to God for the rest"

Look down there and see a hand stealing over the edge of the wall The old man levels his piece—that British trooper falls back with a crash [illegible] upon his comrades heads!

[illegible] with suspense but [illegible] the young girl passes [illegible] the veteran's grasp and [illegible] the result

For a moment all is silent below the British braves are somewhat baffled [illegible] that [illegible] old rebel [illegible] is looking from yonder window [illegible] pause [illegible]

[illegible]

Quick Bess the rifles!

And the brave girl passes the rifles to her father's grasp there are four shots, one after the other three more soldiers fall back like [illegible] upon the ground and a single [illegible] is seen slowly mounting to the top of the wall [illegible] fixed upon the [illegible] which he will [illegible] moment is gone

Now the last ball is fired the old man stands there in that second story window his hands vainly grasping for another loaded rifle! At this moment the wounded and dying band below are joined by a party of some refugees who clad in their half rebel uniform, came rushing from the woods and with one bound are leaping from the summit of the wall

"Quick Bess my rifle"

And look there even while the veteran stood looking upon his foes the [illegible] girl [illegible] and wildly [illegible] a brave girl after woman [illegible] she handed to her father [illegible] then [illegible] another

Now look down [illegible] [illegible] that [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible]

[illegible] with [illegible] [illegible] with a curse [illegible] [illegible] with his [illegible] fired at [illegible]

[illegible] there is [illegible] the young [illegible] from the wall [illegible] over her [illegible] form [illegible] at her back [illegible]

Now look [illegible] at the hall door—shouts—hurried—curses

We have the blockhouse at last!

The old man raises himself at the sound makes an effort to reach [illegible] rifle and then falls back again his eyes glaring, as the fierce pain of that wound quivers through his heart

Now watch the movements of that daughter Silently she loads a rifle silently she rests its barrel against the head of that powder keg and then placing her finger on the trigger stands over her father's form while the shouts of the enraged soldiers came thundering from the stairs Yes they have broken the hall door, they have taken possession of the old block house they are rushing toward that chamber with murder in their hearts and in their glaring eyes! Had the old man a thousand lives they were not worth a farthing's purchase now

Still that girl—grown suddenly white as the kerchief round her neck stands there trembling from head to foot the rifle in her hand its dark tube laid against the powder keg

The door is burst open—look there Stout forms are in the doorway with muskets in their hands grim faces stained with blood glare into the room

Now, as if her very soul was coined into the words that young girl with her face as pale as death her hazel eyes glaring with deathly light utters this short yet meaning speech

"Advance one step into the room and I will fire this rifle into the powder there"

No oath quivers from the lips of that girl to confirm her resolution but there she stands alone with her wounded father and not a soldier dare cross the threshold Imbrued as they are in deeds of blood there is something terrible to these men in the simple words of that young girl who stands there with the rifle laid against the powder keg

They stood as if spellbound on the threshold of that chamber

At last one bolder than the rest advances whose face is half concealed in a thick red beard grasps his musket and levels it at a young girl's breast

"Stand back, or I will fire"

Still the girl is firm the brave advances a step and then starts back The sharp click of that rifle falls with an unpleasant emphasis upon his ear

"Bess, I am dying," gasps the old man faintly extending his arms "Ha ha we foiled the Britishers! Come—daughter—kneel here kneel and say a prayer for me and let me feel your warm breath upon my face for I am getting so cold—oh dark and cold!"

Look As those trembling accents fall from the old man's tongue those fingers unloose their hold of the rifle—already the troops are secure of one victim at least a young and beautiful girl for affection for her father is mastering the heroism of the moment—look she is about to spring into his arms But now she sees her danger again she clutches the rifle again—although her father's dying accents are in her ears—stands there prepared to scatter that house into ruins if a single rough hand assails that veteran form

There are a few brief terrible moments of suspense Then a hurried sound far down the mansion then a contest on the stairs then the echo of rifle shots and the light of a rifle blaze then those ruffians in the doorway fall crushed before the strong arms of Continental soldiers Then a wild shriek quivers through the room and that young girl—that hero woman—with one bound springs forward into her brothers arms and nestles there while her dead father—his form yet warm—lies with fixed eyeballs upon the floor
